In dealing with the subject of amendments, the Commission became convinced that it was not wise to group together in one act all the amendments which it suggested. The various subjects of legislation with regard to election laws bear no necessary relation to each other. For example, the adoption of a suggested amendment to the registration system would not necessarily depend upon the adoption of an amendment to the method of nomination. The Commission therefore has grouped its suggested amendments into different acts, each dealing with its own subject so that each may be intelligently considered and discussed on its own merits.

In some cases where the members of the Commission were not entirely unanimous as to which of two suggested amendments was the better, the course has been adopted of submitting alternative acts.

The Commission was directed to report to the session of the Legislature which commenced in January, 1911.

The work of the Commission is not wholly completed. It has completed the Code of existing laws, and it has completed the acts containing the amendments which it would suggest on the two subjects of Registration and Methods of Nomination.

It has under preparation Acts which will contain suggested amendments upon the other branches of election law.

To avoid delay the Commission presents this report of its work to date and will, when its work is completed, present a further report as to the subjects of the Form of Ballot, the Conduct of Elections and Election Contests.

REGISTRATION.

With regard to Registration, there seems to be a practical unanimity of opinion that in the large cities of the Commonwealth the Registration System already in force has been efficient in lessening the opportunities for fraud and eliminating contests at the polls, and these advantages more than counterbalance the fact that it keeps away from the polls some intelligent citizens who are too busy or too careless to register. With regard to registration in the cities of the third class, there seems to be much difference of opinion. Some of the smaller cities consider that it is an unnecessary expense and an irritating and undesirable feature of the law. Others regard it as a wise precaution against fraud. The facts seem to be that in the smaller communities of the Commonwealth it is not needed, while in the larger communities it is useful. The constitutional requirement of uniformity which allows classification only as to cities, produces an anomalous condition of affairs. There are large boroughs and small cities. Some of the cities are smaller in population than the larger boroughs. For example: Corry and Monongahela, both of which are cities, have only a little over 5000 population each, while Norristown and Shenandoah, both of which are boroughs, have over 20,000 population each. A less onerous system of registration is needed in the smaller cities, and while on account of the constitutional provision referred to it is impossible to draft a special registration system for boroughs the larger boroughs can avail themselves of the system by becoming cities.

The Commission recommends certain amendments to the existing laws relating to assessors, and registration in townships and boroughs. These suggestions are embodied in five separate acts (see Appendices A, B, C, D and E). The purposes of these amendments are briefly:

1. To abolish all assssments, registries, returns, etc., that were made necessary only by the February election.
2. To establish uniform terms for registry assessors, and provide a uniform method of filling vacancies.
3. To make a uniform system of returns by tax collectors in townships, boroughs and cities of the third class.

The Commission has also drafted an act (see Appendix F) designed to give the cities of the third class a system of registration less onerous than the system of personal registration now applicable to cities of the first and second classes, but more efficient than the system prevailing in other parts of the Commonwealth.

This act combines some of the features of both systems, Personal rgistration is done away with, but in lieu thereof the assessors' lists are revised and corrected by two registrars appointed by the County Commissioners, who sit for that purpose at designated times before election. The lists so made up serve the same purpose as the registers in cities of the first and second class, and the presence of an elector's name upon this list is made a prerequisite to and conclusive of his right to vote.

Some amendments of the minor details of the present registration system in cities of the first and second class have been suggested by the Boards of Registration of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, and by other citizens. Such as in the judgment of the Commission are desirable have been embodied in a separate act, which is presented with this report. (See Appendix G.)

These amendments concisely stated are:

1. The changing of the dates of registration to conform to the Constitutional Amendment abolishing the February election.
2. A change in the form of register, by providing a column for noting the date of the payment of tax, and also by numbering the lines of each page for convenience in reference.
3. Defining the method of proving the payment of tax.
4. Requiring all petitions to be under oath and empowering the chief clerk of the Board of Registration Commissioners to administer such oath.

METHODS OF NOMINATION.

In this Commonwealth as in other States of the Union, candidates for public office are nominated by voluntary groups of citizens called parties, who are supposed to be united together by a common adherence to certain principles or common support of certain candidates. Originally these parties were not interfered with in any way by the Commonwealth. Only after the candidates were nominated for any office by the respective parties did the Commonwealth conduct and regulate the public election for such office. From time to time the Commonwealth also passed laws to punish bribery in securing party nominations and to punish fraud on the part of officers conducting party primaries, but each party was left entirely free to prescribe its own rules of membership and its own methods of nomination. The method of nomination usually employed was by the election of delegates who met in convention and nominated the candidates.

Owing to the growth of population, especially of urban population, the more systematic organization of parties, the indifference of busy and prosperous citizens to politics, and their neglect to take any part or interest in the nominating machinery or work of their respective parties, the power of party organizations came often to be wielded by a small group of men, who might or might not be fairly representative of the entire body of citizens who constituted the party. To remedy the evils arising from this condition, various plans have been suggested, but the one which has met with the most popular favor throughout the United States is to have the State take charge of the nominating machinery of the parties and to simplify that machinery by direct nomination by the voters instead of indirect nomination by delegates selected by the voters. Statutes embodying to a greater or less extent these two features have been passed in many States of the Union.

In Pennsylvania, the General Assembly, in 1906, enacted what is known as the Uniform Primary Act, which provided that the nomination by all parties should be made at one primary to be conducted by the Commonwealth and that nominations for all offices, except those to be voted for by electors of the State at large should be made directly and not through delegate conventions.

This statute has now been in operation nearly four years. One of the most difficult tasks of the Commission has been to ascertain the feeling of the electors towards this Act and the system it established. The Commission found that opinions with regard to it varied widely and the difference of opinion did not seem to be coincident with any lines of party or locality or intelligence. It seems to be generally agreed that the system has not to any very great extent remedied the evils it was designed to remedy and it has developed some evils of its own.

Briefly stated, the arguments for and against it are as follows:

It is claimed in support of it:

1. That it has encouraged the ordinary citizen to attend the primaries and restored his confidence in their efficacy as an expression of the will of the majority.

2. That it prevents the leaders of the party organizations from dictating nominations against the real wishes of a majority of the members of the party.

3. That any defects which it has can be remedied by amendment and that sufficient time has not elapsed since its adoption to give it a fair trial.

It is claimed against the system:

1. That it puts the State to great and unnecessary expense.

2. That it gives opportunity for the capture of a party nomination by a rival party.

3. That it leads to the multiplication of parties, the confusion of issues and to political manipulation by party leaders or clever demagogues.

4. That it removes a valuable check on bad nominations, viz., the fear that if an exceptionally bad nomination is made a rival party at a later primary may take advantage of this fact and make an exceptionally good one.

5. That it does not secure any better candidates than the old system and makes it more difficult to fix the responsibility for their choice.

The members of the Commission are unanimous in believing that the Uniform Primary System now in force is based upon an unsound theory. A healthy, vigorous party is essentially a voluntary association of citizens which should be free to pass upon the qualifications of its own members, adopt its own rules and depend for its success upon the principles which it advocates and the candidates it suggests. The most salutary political condition of any community is not to have many parties nominating candidates at the expense of the State, but to have few well-organized parties who compete with each other, so that the issues may be distinct and the candidates few in number. The holding of party primaries on different dates often stimulates one party to take advantage of the mistakes of the other by nominating better candidates, and the fear of this result sometimes prevents the nomination of unfit candidates by the party first holding its primaries. In many cases the selection of candidates by small bodies of representative delegates gives opportunity for deliberation for ascertaining and exposing the demerits of a candidate or for sounding public opinion which the present system lacks. The Uniform and Direct Primary system is based upon the theory that the nomination of candidates is part of the election machinery of the State. It tends to weaken party organization and lessen party responsibility; to make the formation of new parties easy and to make candidates not so much the deliberate choice of well-organized party groups as the representatives of shifting groups of citizens acting together because of some sudden wave of popular impulse or the clever manipulation of some candidate.

The Commission believes that the better system is to leave the nominations to be made by the parties themselves in their own way, interfering only to the extent necessary to prevent bribery, fraud and disorder and imposing upon parties the risks and responsibilities that are certain to ultimately follow bad nominations.

While the Commission is unanimous in the belief that the Uniform Primary System is not founded on a sound theory, it has not overlooked the fact that the system was adopted in this Commonwealth as the result of a popular movement for direct expression of popular will which has taken various forms over the whole United States and which as not yet expanded its force and that there is a wide diversity of opinion as to its merits or demerits. In view of these facts the Commission has drafted and attached to this report two alternative bills.

The first of these (see Appendix H) simply amends the present system in the following particulars:

1. By providing for one primary each year instead of two, to be held in the even-numbered years or General Elections on the first Saturday in May and in the odd-numbered years or Municipal Elections on the fourth Saturday in September.

2. By providing that the written acceptance of the candidate shall accompany every petition to place his name upon the primary ballot.

3. By providing that no name shall be placed upon the ballot of more than one party without the consent of the party committees.

4. By providing for the withdrawal of candidates.

5. By changing the provisions of the present law regarding the opening of the ballot box and recounting the vote.

6. This bill also modifies the provisions of the present law as to the method of determining the standing of a party as respects its right to take part in the primary. This change is made on account of certain alterations in the form of ballot and method of making the returns which the Commission has under consideration and which will be embodied in its final report.

The second or alternative bill (see Appendix I) retains the form of the present law, with the amendments above suggested, but with the following additional changes:

1. It permits the parties to hold their primaries on different dates.

2. It leaves to each party to determine whether it shall adopt the direct or indirect method of nomination, or a combination of both.

3. It provides for the holding of the primaries by officers chosen by the party, but under the same duties and penalties as election officers under the present law.

4. It provides that the qualifications of voters shall be determined by the rules of the party holding the primary.

5. It provides for the payment of the cost of holding the primary by the party instead of by the State.

It is hoped that the framing and presentation of these two alternative bills will lead to such a thorough and intelligent discussion of the subject throughout the Commonwealth that it may be readily ascertained which system meets with the approval of a majority of the citizens.

As has already been stated, the Commission is not yet ready to report on the other branches of its work, but expects to be able to present its final report on these at an early date, and at this session of the Legislature.

APPENDIX A.

REGISTRATION IN BOROUGHS AND TOWNSHIPS

Amendment to act of June 16, 1891, P. L. 298.

Commission's Codification, page 4, Section 16.

Proposed amendments: (1) Increase term of Registry Assessors from two to four years; for the sake of general informity to secure more experienced officials, to render less frequent elections necessary and to make terms uniform with real estate assessors.

(2) Empower County Commissioners to fill vacancies instead of the Court, because commissioners fill vacancies in office of real estate assessors, and all duties of registry assessors are under direction of commissioners.

An act to amend section one of an act approved the sixteenth day of June, A. D., 1891, entitled "An act to authorize the election of assistant assessors, for the purpose of registration of voters, in the townships and boroughs containing more than one election district wherein but one assessor for valuation resides," by enlarging the term of assistant assessors, providing for their election every four years, and changing the power of filling vacancies from the court of quarter sessions to the county commissioners.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that section one of an act approved the sixteenth day of June, A. D. 1891, entitled, "An act to authorize the election of assistant assessors, for the purpose of registration of voters, in the townships and boroughs containing more than one election district wherein but one assessor for valuation resides," which reads and provides as follows, to wit:

"Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that the qualified voters of every election district in boroughs and townships in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania wherein more than one election district is authorized and where but one assessor for valuation of taxable property resides in the borough or township having more than one election district, shall on the third Tuesday of February, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, and annually thereafter, elect a properly-qualified person for assistant assessor in each of said election districts, who shall perform all the duties relating to elections now required to be performed by assessors in boroughs and townships having but one election district.

"In case of a vacancy in said office, the court of quarter sessions, or any judge of the said court of the same county, shall appoint a person to fill such vacancy," be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows, to wit:

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that the qualified voters of every election district in boroughs and townships in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, wherein more more than one election district is authorized, and where but one assessor for valuation of taxable property resides in the borough or township having more than one election district shall at the municipal election on the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, nineteen hundred and eleven, and quadrennially thereafter, elect a properly-qualified person for assistant assessor in each of said election districts to serve for four years, who shall perform all the duties relating to elections now required to be performed by assessors in boroughs and townships having but one election district. In case of a vacancy in said office, the county commissioners shall appoint a person to fill such vacancy.

APPENDIX B.

REGISTRY ASSESSMENTS IN BOROUGHS AND TOWNSHIPS AND IN CITIES OF THE THIRD CLASS.

Amendments to the act of June 25, 1895, P. L., 296 (No. 212).

Commission's Codification, page 2, sections 4 and 5.

Proposed amendment: (1) to extend to the cities of the third class the operation of the act now relating to townships and boroughs; because it is proposed to relieve the cities of the third class from the necessity of personal registration; there will then be no public record of what voters have qualified themselves by paying the necessary state or county tax within two years. This return by the tax collectors to the county commissioners will supply that record; and enable the registrars to complete their voting list for the election officers.

An act to amend the title and sections one (1) and two (2) of an act approved June 25, A. D. 1895, entitled "An act requiring tax collectors of townships and boroughs of the Commonwealth to give a numbered tax receipt from a book to be furnished by the county commissioners, containing a correspondingly numbered stub, and requiring a sheet setting forth name, amount of tax paid and number of receipt to be sent, twenty days before each election, to the county commissioners for public inspection, and to provide for punishment of tax collectors violating the provisions of this act."

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that the title of an act approved June 25, A. D. 1895, which title is as follows: "An act requiring tax collectors of townships and boroughs of the Commonwealth to give a numbered tax receipt from a book to be furnished by the county commissioners containing a correspondingly numbered stub, and requiring a sheet, setting forth name, amount of tax paid and number of receipt to be sent, twenty days before each election, to the county commissioners for public inspection, and to provide for punishment of tax collectors violating the provisions of this act," be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"An act requiring tax collectors of townships, boroughs and cities of the third class of the Commonwealth to give a numbered tax receipt from a book to be furnished by the county commissioners containing a correspondingly numbered stub, and requiring a sheet, setting forth name, amount of tax paid and number of receipt, to be sent, twenty days before each election, to the county commissioners for public inspection and to provide for punishment of tax collectors violating he provisions of this act."

Section 2. That section 1 of said act, which reads as follows: "Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that tax collectors of townships and boroughs of the Commonwealth furnish each person on the payment of taxes, with a numbered receipt setting out date, name of tax-payer, amount of tax and district in which tax-payer is assessed, from a book to be furnished by the county commissioners containing a stub, that on the stub a memoranda shall be made in ink of the number of the receipt, the date, name of tax-payer, amount of tax and district in which tax-payer is assessed," be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that tax collectors of townships, boroughs and cities of the third class of the Commonwealth furnish each person, on the payment of taxes, with a numbered receipt, setting out date, name of tax-payer, amount of tax and district in which tax-payer is assessed, from a book to be furnished by the county commissioners, containing a stub, that on the stub memoranda shall be made in ink of the number of the receipt, the date, name of tax-payer, amount of tax and district in which tax-payer is assessed."

Section 3. That section 2 of said act, which reads as follows: "Section 2. That twenty days before each election the tax collector of townships and boroughs shall send a sheet to the office of the county commissioners containing the number of each receipt issued, date of payment, name of taxpayer, amount of tax and district in which taxpayer is assessed for the period since the last report. The first report shall be for taxes received on and after June first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five," and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 2. That twenty-five days before each election the tax collector of townships, boroughs and cities of the third class shall send a sheet to the office of the county commissioners containing the number of each receipt issued, date of payment, name of tax-payer, amount of tax and district in which taxpayer is assessed for the period since the last report. The first report shall be for taxes received on and after June first, one thousand nine hundred and eleven."

APPENDIX C.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS IN CITIES OF THE THIRD CLASS.

Commission's Codification, page 3, Secs. 8 and 9.

Proposed change: To extend the term of registry assessor in cities of the third class from two to four years; because this is uniform with the term of the real estate assessor, who is frequently the same person as the registry assessor in his election district; it makes the term uniform with registry assessors in boroughs and townships and with the terms of county commissioners, who revise and regulate the work of the registry assessors.

A complete new act is more desirable than to cite for amendment parts of two separate acts.

An act fixing the term of registry assessors or assessors to perform only duties incident to the holding of elections and registration of voters in cities of the third class at four years.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That at the municipal election to be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday of November, nineteen hundred and eleven, and quadrienially thereafter, at the November municipal election, there shall be elected in each election district or precinct in all cities of the third class in the Commonwealth, a properly qualified person for registry assessor, to perform only such duties as are now and as heretofore have been required by law of assessors, registry or assistant assessors, incident to the holding of elections and registration of voters.

Section 2. That the term of such assessors shall begin on the first Monday of December following their election and shall continue for four years.

Section 3. The compensation of such assessors shall be the same as now fixed by law.

Section 4. That all laws inconsistent with this are hereby repealed.

APPENDIX D.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS BY REGISTRY ASSESSORS IN ALL ELECTION DISTRICTS.

Amendment to Section 1 of the Act of May 29, 189[illegible] P. L., 134.

Commission's Codification, p 6, section 20.

Purpose of Amendment: To dispense with registry in December—no longer necessary, because February elections are abolished. It also fixes the first Saturday of May as the time to begin his work—as in every odd numbered year that will be the day of the Spring Primary, which will be a convenient time and place for the beginning of the registry of voters.

An act to amend an act approved May 29, 1891, amending an act approved January 30, 1874, the former being entitled "An Act to amend sections one, two and three of an act, entitled 'A further supplement to the act regulating elections in this Commonwealth,' approved the thirteenth day of January, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, changing the time and manner of making the registry of voters and the duties of registry assessors," by abolishing the December registry.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That so much of section 1 of an act, approved May 29, 1891, entitled 'An act to amend sections one, two and three of an act entitled 'A further supplement to an act regulating elections in this Commonwealth,' approved the thirteenth day of January, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, changing the time and manner of making the registry of voters and the duties of registry assessors," which reads as follows:

"Section 1. That for the purpose of making the original annual assessment and registration of voters in each of the election districts of this Commonwealth, it shall be the duty of each of the assessors, who are required to perform any of the duties incident to the holding of elections and the registration of voters in the different election districts of this Commonwealth, to visit in person each and every dwelling house in his district on the first Monday in May and on the first Monday in December of each year, or as soon thereafter as may be possible and practicable, when all of said dwelling houses cannot be personally visited by him on the said first Monday of May and on the first Monday in December," shall be and is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 1. That for the purpose of making the original annual assessment and registration of voters in each of the election districts of this Commonwealth, it shall be the duty of each of the assessors, who are required to perform any of the duties incident to the holding of elections and the registration of voters in the different election districts of this Commonwealth, to visit in person each and every dwelling house in his district on the first Saturday in May, or as soon thereafter as may be possible and practicable, when all of said dwelling houses cannot be personally visited by him on the said first Saturday of May.

APPENDIX E.

ASSESSMENTS OF VOTERS BY REGISTRY ASSESSORS

See Act of May 16, 1895, P. L., 75, Sec. 3.
Commission's Codification, page 9, section 26.
Proposed Amendment: To strike out the December Registry—because of the abolition of the February Election.

An act amending an act approved May 16, 1895, entitled "An act to amend sections two and three of an act, entitled 'A further supplement to the act regulating elections in this Commonwealth,' approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, changing the time and manner of making the registry of voters and the duties of registry assessors."

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That section 3 of an act approved May 16, 1895, entitled "An act to amend sections two and three of an act, entitled 'A further supplement to the act regulating elections in this Commonwealth,' approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, changing the time and manner of making the registry of voters and the duties of registry assessors," which reads as follows:

"Section 3. After the assessments have been completed on the sixty-second day before the third Tuesday of February, and on the sixty-second day before the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each year, the assessor shall, on the following day, make a return to the county commissioners of the 'Original Registry List' thus revised and completed, and the county commissioners shall thereupon proceed to make out a complete list in alphabetical order of all persons so returned as taxables in said election district, and furnish the same together with the necessary election blanks to the officers of the election in such election district on or before seven o'clock in the morning of the election, and no man shall be permitted to vote at the election on that day whose name is not on said list unless he shall make proof of his right to vote as hereinbefore required. 'The Original Registry List, as returned to the county commissioners preceding the November election, shall be returned to the county commissioners to the assessor before the first Monday of December, which shall be used by said assessor to make his original registry list for December, as heretofore provided," shall be and is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 3. After the assessments have been completed on the sixty-second day before the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each year, the assessor shall, on the following day, make a return to the county commissioners of the "Original Registry List" thus revised and completed, and the county commissioners shall thereupon proceed to make out a complete list in alphabetical order of all persons so returned as taxables in all and every election district in the townships and boroughs of this Commonwealth, and furnish the same, together with the necessary election blanks, to the officers of the election in such election district, on or before seven o'clock in the morning of the election; and no man shall be permitted to vote at the election on that day whose name is not on said list, unless he shall make proof of his right to vote as hereinafter required.

APPENDIX F.

REGISTRATION IN CITIES OF THE THIRD CLASS.

This act contemplates that in cities of the third class the registry assessors shall make the original canvas and registry of voters after the usual Spring changes; the same as is provided for boroughs and townships in Secs. 20, 21, 22 and 23 of the Code. Sections 24, 25 and 26 of the Code, relating to boroughs and townships, are superseded and supplied by this act, which prescribes more rigid regulations for registration in cities of the third class; but abolishes and obviates the necessity of personal attendance upon the registrars.

See Acts of 1906, P. L., 63, and 1907, P. L., 251. To be repealed and supplied by this law.

An act to provide for the revision of the registration of voters in cities of the third class; by registers appointed by the county commissioners; and prescribing penalties for their violation or neglect of duty and for other misconduct.

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That the county commissioners of each county in which are located cities or a city of the third class, shall not later than September 1, 1911, and thereafter not later than September 1st, every fourth year, being the year succeeding a Gubernatorial election, appoint two registrars for each election precinct in such city or cities, to serve for a term of four years, and until their successors are duly qualified. The said registrars must be duly qualified electors of the precinct or ward for which they are appointed, and must have been residents of the city in which said precinct or ward is situated for a period of two years before their said appointment, and of the precinct or ward for one year immediately preceding the same. They must be sober and judicious persons, of good moral character, able to read intelligently and to write legibly. One of the said registrars shall be a member of the party polling the highest vote within the election precinct or ward at the last preceding Presidential election and the other shall be a member of the party polling the next highest vote. It is the intent of this act that at all times the Board of Registrars shall be, as nearly as may be, evenly divided in political faith, and, therefore, if it appear that at any time, by reason of a change in political affiliations or because of error in the appointment, the Board is not so evenly divided, any ten electors of the district may file a petition with the county commissioners, setting forth the facts, and praying that the changed or erroneous appointments may be revoked and another appointment made instead. The county commissioners shall grant a public hearing, and if they find the facts to be as represented, they shall give the relief asked for. No person who holds, or is a candidate for, a public office shall act as registrar.

Section 2. The county commissioners shall also be empowered to remove any of the said registrars for misconduct or malfeasance in office.

Section 3. The names of two suitable persons to be registrars shall be suggested to the county commissioners, by petitions duly filed for each precinct or ward, by the party representatives of the two leading parties of the precinct or ward. The petitions shall be signed by five electors of the district, and shall set forth the names, addresses, occupations and political affiliations of the persons suggested. The signers of the petitions shall swear to the truth of the facts set forth therein. The petition shall remain on file, open to the public inspection, at least ten days before the persons named therein shall be appointed, except in cases where a vacancy occurs in the office of registrar within ten days of a registration day, when the appointment can be made without such delay. If no petitions are filed, the county commissioners may appoint. No appointment shall be made unless the person who desires to be appointed personally appears before the county commissioners and satisfies them of his qualifications. In case of reappointment, however, it shall not be necessary for him to appear before them.

Section 4. At least one week's notice of the time and place of the examination of the suggested registrars shall be given by the county commissioners, in the daily press; and any elector may appear, either in person or by counsel, and object to the qualification of any applicant. If the persons nominated are found not to be properly qualified, the county commissioners may decline to appoint them; and the party authorities of the precinct or ward may then suggest another name, or other names, for the said place or places, and failing to do so the commissioners shall appoint.

Section 5. The registrars shall receive a compensation of five dollars a day, for the time actually spent in the work of registration.

Section 6. The registrars of each election district shall meet at the polling-places thereof, on the seventh Tuesday and third Saturday preceding every November election, and shall remain in open session, from eight ante meridian to one post meridian, two to six post meridian, and from seven post meridian to ten post meridian, of each registration day.

Section 7. They shall, at the first of such meetings herein provided for, viz.: on the seventh Tuesday before the November election, obtain and receive from the county commissioners, who shall deliver to them the "Original Registry List" provided for in the laws regulating the assessment of voters by the assistant or registry assessors. They shall proceed to make out two complete lists in alphabetical order of all persons returned thereon as legal voters; noting their reported place of residence, street and number.

Section 8. They shall, at each of said meetings, revise and purge said lists by adding thereto any names of qualified electors—proved by the written affidavits of two qualified electors—who have been omitted therefrom; and they shall strike from the list the names of such persons as shall be proved, to their satisfaction, by the affidavits of at least two qualified electors of the precinct or ward, to have died, or removed from the district, since the original registry.

Section 9. They shall obtain and receive from the county commissioners and the county commissioners shall deliver to them the originals or copies of the tax collectors' reports provided for by the laws of this Commonwealth to be made by the tax collectors for their election districts for the two preceding years; and therefrom they shall obtain the information and record opposite each voter's name the date of his last payment of a State or county tax.

Section 10. Parties or bodies of electors, who are now, or hereafter may be, entitled to have watchers at the general election, shall be allowed to appoint not more than three electors of the precinct or ward to act as watchers in each place of registry, without expense to the county, on each registration day. No more than one watcher from such party shall be allowed in the registry place at any one time. Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners, stating his name and the party or policy he represents. Watchers shall be entitled to be present during all of the public sessions herein provided for, and shall be required to show their certificates when requested to do so. They shall have the power to challenge.

Section 11. At the end of each day's registration the registrars shall compare the two registers, so kept, and cause any errors in either of them to be corrected by aid of the entries in the other, so as to make the same agree, where there is any difference between them. The registrars shall then sign their initials on the line immediately under the last names registered, under each letter, in both books, together with the date. At the close of the registrations, the registrars shall sign a certificate, the form of which shall be printed on the last page of the registers, setting forth the number of persons added to the "original registry" on each day, and the number of names which have been stricken out, if any.

Section 12. If any citizen shall object to the action of the registrars in accepting or rejecting any claim for registration, or to any record or act of registration, he may file his petition with the county commissioners, setting forth the ground of his complaint, within five days. be placed thereon, or struck therefrom; and it shall be his duty to correct said original list by adding thereto upon personal application the names of persons entitled to vote not already thereon, and by striking therefrom fictitious names, or names of persons who may have died or removed from said district; and in all cases it shall be the duty of the said assessor to enter in his book, opposite the name of each voter, the name or names of the person or persons, together with the residence of the same, who shall furnish information as to the residence and qualifications of each voter who has been assessed, or as to the persons whose names shall be stricken from said original list; and the said original list shall be open for inspection by any qualified elector of the county or ward in which the election district is situated, as well as by the persons claiming to be registered; and the court of common pleas of the proper county, or any law judge thereof at chambers, on the application of any qualified elector of the ward or county under oath, which oath may be made at any time before the day of election, shall call the assessor and the complainant before it or him by citation or rule to show cause, and shall hear the parties and dispose of the subject in a summary manner, as to law and justice shall belong, and shall, if need be, order the assessor to correct the registry accordingly, and the said court or judge may enforce such order by attachment as in proceedings for contempt. (Act 1895, Sec. 1, P. L. 75.)

It shall be the duty of the assessor in all voting districts or precincts of this Commonwealth where temporary voting places are or may be established, to be present at his place of residence in said election district or precinct during the two secular days next preceding the day fixed by the 26th section of this Code for returning the list to the county commissioners from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m. of each of said days, to perform all the duties as set forth in the 24th section of this Code. (Act 1893, Sec. 1, P. L. 455.)

After the assessments have been completed on the sixty-second day before the third Tuesday of February, and on the sixty-second day before the Tuesday next following the first Monday of November in each year, the assessor shall, on the following day, make a return to the county commissioners of the "Original Registry List" thus revised and completed, and the county commissioners shall thereupon proceed to make out a complete list in alphabetical order of all persons so returned as taxables in said election district, and furnish the same, together with the necessary election blanks, to the officers of the election in such election district, on or before seven o'clock in the morning of the election; and no man shall be permitted to vote at the election on that day whose name is not on said list, unless he shall make proof of his right to vote as hereinafter required. "The Original Registry List," as returned to the county commissioners preceding the November election, shall be returned by the county commissioners to the assessor before the first Monday of December, which shall be used by said assessor to make his original registry list for December as heretofore provided. (Act 1895, Sec. 3, P. L. 78.)

On the day of election any person whose name shall not appear on the registry of voters, and who claims the right to vote at said election, shall produce at least one qualified voter of the district as a witness to the residence of the claimant in the district in which he claims to be a voter, for the period of at least two months immediately preceding said election, which witness shall be sworn or affirmed and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit to the facts stated by him, which affidavit shall define clearly where the residence is of the person so claiming to be a voter; and the person so claiming the right to vote shall also take and subscribe a written or partly written and partly printed affidavit, stating, to the best of his knowledge and belief, when and where he was born; that he has been a citizen of the United States for one month and of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; that he has resided in the Commonwealth one year, or, if formerly a qualified elector or a native born citizen thereof, and has removed therefrom and returned, that he has resided therein six months next preceding said election; that he has resided in the district in which he calims to be a voter for the period of at least two months immediately preceding said election; that he has not moved into the district for the purpose of voting therein; that he has, if twenty-two years of age or upwards, paid a State or county tax within two years, which was assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election. The said affidavit shall also state when and where the tax claimed to be paid by the affiant was assessed, and when and where and to whom paid; and the tax receipt therefor shall be produced for examination, unless the affiant shall state in his affidavit that it has been lost or destroyed, or that he never received any; and if a naturalized citizen shall also state when, where and by what court he was naturalized, and shall also produce his certificate of naturalization for examination. But if the person so claiming the right to vote shall take and subscribe an affidavit that he is a native-born citizen of the United States, or, if born elsewhere, shall state the fact in his affidavit, and shall produce evidence that he has been naturalized, or that he is entitled to citizenship by reason of his father's naturalization, and shall further state in his affidavit that he is, at the time of making the affidavit, of the age of twenty-one and under twenty-two years; that he has been a citizen of the United States one month, and has resided in the State one year; or, if a native-born citizen of the State and removed therefrom and returned, that he has resided therein six months next preceding said election, and in the election district two months immediately preceding said election, (and) he shall be entitled to vote, although he shall not have paid taxes. The said affidavits of all persons making such claims and the affidavits of the witnesses to their residence shall be preserved by the election board, and at the close of the election they shall be inclosed with the list of voters, tally-list and other papers required by law to be filed by the return judge with the prothonotary, and shall remain on file therewith, in the prothonotary's office, subject to examination as other election papers are. If the election officers shall find that the applicant possesses all the legal qualifications of a voter he shall be permitted to vote, and his name shall be added to the list of taxables by the election officers, the word "tax," being added where the claimant claims to vote on tax and the word "age" where he claims to vote on age, the same words being added by the clerks in each case, respectively, on the lists of persons voting at such election. Provided, That in case any person is allowed to vote at an election, who is not registered, but makes an affidavit which by reason of the failure to fully observe the requirements of this section is insufficient, in any contest growing out of said election it shall be lawful to correct any mistakes or supply any deficiencies in such affidavit, so as to show that the said person was in fact a qualified voter; but this shall not apply to non-registered voters who make no affidavit, or one which makes no attempt to comply with the law. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 254.)

It shall be lawful for any qualified citizen of the district, notwithstanding the name of the proposed voter is contained on the list of resident taxables, to challenge the vote of such person, whereupon the same proof of the right of suffrage, as is now required by law, shall be publicly made and acted on by the election board, and the vote admitted or rejected, according to the evidence. Every person claiming to be a naturalized citizen shall be required to produce his naturalization certificate, at the election, before voting, except where he has been for five years consecutively a voter in the district in which he offers his vote; and on the vote of such person being received, it shall be the duty of the election officers to write or stamp on such certificate the word "voted," with the day, month and year; and if any election officer or officers shall receive a second vote on the same day, by virtue of the same certificate excepting where sons are entitled to vote, because of the naturalization of their fathers, they and the person who shall offer such second vote shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court; but the fine shall not exceed five hundred dollars in each case, nor the imprisonment one year. The like punishment shall be inflicted, on conviction, on the officers of election who shall neglect or refuse to make, or cause to be made, the indorsement required as aforesaid on said naturalization certificate. (Act 1874, Sec. 11, P. L. 36.)

The provisions of Sections 27 and 28 shall not apply in cities of the First, Second and Third Class in so far as they conflict with the provisions of Sections 29 to 77 of this Code.

D. PERSONAL REGISTRATION IN CITIES OF THE FIRST AND SECOND CLASSES

"Commissioners," as used herein, has reference to Registration Commissioners; "oath" includes affirmation, and

"'swear'' includes affirm, wherever used. All references to public officers or municipal authorities, where not otherwise specified, shall be understood to refer to the authorities of the proper counties or judicial district. "Party,'' as used herein, has reference to a political party which, at the last election, polled two per centum of the vote cast in any city or election district for the candidate receiving the largest vote therein. "Register'' means the book containing, or to contain, the registry list of electors, prepared by the registrars. (Act 1906, Sec. 2, P. L. 49.)

The Governor of the Commonwealth shall, not later than June 15, in every third year appoint a Board of Registration Commissioners for each of said cities (of the first and second classes), consisting of four duly qualified electors of said city, not more than two of whom shall be members of the same party. The commissioners shall hold office for a term of three years, or until their successors qualify. Any commissioner may be removed for cause, by the Governor. Any vacancy in a Board of Commissioners shall be filled by the Governor, within ten days after the vacancy occurs, and the person appointed to fill such vacancy shall hold office during the remainder of the term of the commissioner in whose place he was appointed. All appointments shall be so made that at no time shall more than two commissioners belong to the same party. Commissioners in cities of the first class shall receive a compensation at the rate of three thousand dollars per annum; in cities of the second class, at the rate of two thousand dollars per annum; said compensation shall be paid by the treasurer of the proper county. (Act 1906, Sec. 3, P. L. 49.)

In the case of consolidation of two or more cities, under the laws of the Commonwealth, the Boards of Registration Commissioners of said cities, provided for and appointed in accordance with an act, entitled "An Act to provide for the personal registration of electors in cities of the first and second classes of this Commonwealth, to make such registration a condition of the right to vote in such cities, and to provide penalties for the violations of its provisions," approved the seventeenth day of February, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and six, shall remain in office and continue their functions until the expiration of the term for which they were appointed, each Board of Registration Commissioners remaining in charge of the municipal territory for which it was appointed. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 394.)

As soon after their appointment as may be, the commissioners shall organize by selecting a chairman and a secretary, who shall not be members of the same party. The concurrence of three commissioners shall be necessary to any affirmative action, except as may be otherwise provided herein. The commissioners shall keep a record, in permanent form, of all their proceedings. Their records shall be open to the public at all reasonable times; and they shall make an annual report to the Governor. They shall have power to administer oaths. (Acts 1906, Sec. 4, P. L. 50.)

The commissioners shall, not later than August fifteenth of each year, appoint four registrars for each election district, as herein provided. The registrars must be duly qualified electors of the said district, and shall have been residents of the city for a period of two years, and of the ward for one year, immediately preceding their appointment. They must be sober and judicious persons, of good moral character, able to read intelligently and to write legibly. Two of the registrars shall be members of the party polling the highest vote within the election district at the last preceding election, and two shall be members of the parties polling the next highest number of votes. The commissioners shall provide at all times a Board of Registrars not more than two of whom shall be of the same political faith. If, therefore, it appears at any time that, by reason of a change in political affiliations or because of error in the appointment, a Board is not so divided, any ten electors of the ward may file a petition with the commissioners, setting forth the facts, and praying that one or more of the appointments may be revoked, and that other appointments may be made. The commissioners shall grant a public hearing, and if they find the facts to be as represented, shall give the relief asked for; but no registrar shall be removed merely because his party, at an election following his appointment, has polled a less number of votes in the district than two other parties. No person who holds, or is a candidate for, public office shall act as registrar. Two of the said registrars, one of whom shall be of the majority party, shall be designated by the commissioners to have charge of the voting check list, as hereinafter provided. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 395.)

The names of four qualified persons shall be suggested to the commissioners, by petitions duly filed, for each district—two by the party polling the highest vote in the district at the last preceding election, and two by the party or parties polling the next highest number of votes,—by the district executive committees, if such exist; and, if not, by the ward executive committees, if such exist; and, if not, by the city committees. These petitions shall be signed by five electors of the ward, and shall set forth the names, addresses and occupations and political affiliations of the persons suggested. At least one of the signers of the petitions shall swear to the truth of the facts set forth therein. The petitions shall remain on file, open to the public inspection, at least ten days before the person named therein shall be appointed, except in cases where a vacancy occurs in the office of registrar within ten days of a registration day. If no petitions are filed, the commissioners may appoint without regard to party and if the persons suggested by petition are unfit shall have power to appoint others of whom they have knowledge. No appointment shall be made unless the person to be appointed has personally appeared before the commissioners, and has satisfied them of his qualifications; but in case of a reappointment, it shall not be necessary for the person so reappointed to be summoned. At least one week's notice of the time and place of the examination, for each ward or election district, of those persons who have been suggested by petition, or are under consideration, for appointment as registrars in such ward or election district, shall be published by the commissioners in at least two daily newspapers in the city. Any elector may appear in person, and first being duly sworn (and), show wherein any person, so under consideration, does not possess the qualifications of a registrar. If the persons nominated are found not to be properly qualified, the commissioners may decline to appoint them; and the district executive committee, ward executive committee or city executive committee shall then suggest other names as aforesand. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 395.)

No person shall be appointed a registrar unless the appointment is approved by three commissioners: Provided, That if two commssioners have concurred in approving four persons, successively, to fill one position, and the other two commissioners have concurred in objecting to said persons, the commissioners first referred to may approve four other names; and from these eight, all having been suggested by petition, the other two commissioners must select the registrar. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 395.)

The commissioners shall have power to summon any person whom they desire to interrogate, and all persons testifying before said commissioners shall be first duly sworn by said commissioners. Any person so appointed a registrar must perform his duties as prescribed by this act, unless excused therefrom by the commissioners, for cause shown. The registrars shall receive a compensation of ten dollars per day, for the time actually spent in registration. (Act 1907, Sec 1, P. L. 395.)

The registrars of each divsion of cities of the first and second classes shall meet at the polling-place thereof on the ninth Thursday, seventh Tuesday, and fifth Saturday preceding every November election and on the day of the Spring primary, and shall remain in open session from seven ante meridan to ten ante meridan, and from four post meridian to ten post meridian, of each registration day. They shall, on said days, receive personal applications from persons who claim that they are entitled to be registered. They shall have power to administer oaths, shall examine said applicants under oath, and shall record on the register the names of those whom they shall determine to be qualified, as hereinafter provided. Two weeks' notice of the registration days shall be given by the commissioners, by publication in two daily newspapers in the city, and by posting notices at the polling-places. Electors who did not register at Fall registration may register at Spring registration, and the list shall become of no validity at the beginning of the period of fall registration next succeeding that at which the registers were opened. The old registers shall be preserved by the commissioners for at least two years after the year in which they are in use. (Act 1907, Sec 2, P. L. 398.)

Every person claiming the right to vote must appear in person before the registrars, in the district in which he lives, on one of the days prescribed by law, and answer the questions put to him by them. These answers must be recorded, on a single line, in two registers, which shall have the following form. The size and character of the said register shall be determined by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the form thereof shall be furnished by the said Secretary to the respective commissioners.

Immediately above the form shall be printed the following instructions: The applicant must be sworn, or affirmed that the information given by him in reference to his right to be registered shall be the truth. Any wilful false statement constitutes perjury, and is punishable as such. (Act 1907, Sec. 3, P. L. 399.)

Every register shall be indexed alphabetically from A to Z. The answers of the applicants shall be recorded, in their presence, in both registers in the following manner: In the first column shall be entered the surname of the applicant, in the order of his appearance at the polling-place, on the page bearing the index letter of his surname; in the second column shall be entered his Christian name or names; in the third column, his occupation; in the fourth column, the street and number of his residence; in the fifth and sixth columns, whether he is a lodger, lessee, or owner, and, if he is a lodger or is lessee of a portion only of a house, the location or number of the room or floor which he occupies; in the seventh and eighth columns shall be entered the length of his residence in the State and district, respectively, in the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth columns, the location of the house from which he last registered, giving State, city, street and number, respectively, and the year in which he is so registered; in the thirteenth column, the State or territory of the United States, or the foreign country, where he was born; in the fourteenth column, whether, being foreign born, he produces his naturalization papers; in the fifteenth column, the number of the affidavit of naturalization of his father, if taken; in the sixteenth and seventeenth columns, the manner in which he complies with the law relating to the payment of taxes as a qualification of the right to vote, whether by the production of his receipt or by making affidavit; if the applicant is less than twenty-two years of age, the word "age" shall be recorded in said column; in the eighteenth, nineteenth, twentieth and twenty first columns, his personal description, designating whether white or colored, his approximate age, height and weight; in the twenty-second column, in the register marked "voting check-list," he shall be required to sign his name, if able to write; if he alleges inability to write, a record of the fact shall be made in the same column; and unless due to some apparent physical infirmity, he shall be required to make affidavit of his inability to write; in the twenty-second column in the register marked "ballot check-list," he shall, if challenged on election day, be required to sign his name; in the twenty-third column shall be entered the number of the challenge affidavit of every person who is rquired to take said affidavit; in the twenty-fourth, twenty-fifth, twenty-sixth, twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth columns the election officers shall record, in one register, the obtaining of the ballot, and, in the other, the casting of the vote of the registered elector at the general, municipal, primary or special election as hereinafter provided, or as may hereafter be provided by law. (Act 1907, Sec. 3, P. L. 399.)

Every person who possesses the qualifications of an elector, as provided in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth, or who by continued residence in his election district will obtain such qualifications before the next ensuing election, shall be entitled to be registered; but no person shall be registered unless at least three of the registrars determine that he is so qualified. (Act 1906, Sec. 8, P. L. 56.)

Any person claiming the right to register may be challenged by a registrar, or by any qualified elector of the election district. Any person so challenged shall answer the questions of the challenge affidavit, as herein specified; and after his answers have been recorded, he shall sign, if able to write, and swear to their truth. He shall also make affidavit, at the same time, to the truth of his answers as recorded in the register, if able to read, and which he shall be deemed to have examined or have had the same read to him. The affidavit of all persons so registered shall, at the close of each day of registration, be numbered and filed. The challenge affidavit shall be in the following form:

Registrars.

The challenged applicant shall produce such further proof as the law requires challenged persons to produce on election day, and it shall be the duty of the registrars to require it before permitting him to be registered. All persons claiming the right to vote by reason of naturalization shall be required to produce the proper naturalization papers, or a certified copy thereof, before they shall be registered; but no such person shall be required to produce his papers a second time in the same district, unless he is challenged; Provided, That any person claiming citizenship by reason of the naturalization of his father, may be registered either by the production of his father's papers or a certified copy thereof, or by making affidavit that his father was naturalized at a time when he, the applicant, was less than twenty-one years of age, and that he is unable to produce his father's papers. Whenever the applicant is rejected, after a portion of the record has been filled in, a line shall be drawn through the record already made, and the registrar shall note on said line the reason for the rejection, and shall add his initials thereto. All affidavits and vouchers shall be executed in duplicate, one being delivered into the custody of each registrar who has charge of the registers. (Act 1907, Sec 4, P. L. 407.)

On the Spring registration day the registrars shall, in addition to the registration of electors, strike from the list the names of such persons as shall be proven, to their satisfaction, by the affidavits of at least two qualified electors of the ward, to have died, or removed from the district since the last registration. The registrars shall record, on blank forms provided for that purpose, the names and previous places of registration, giving wards and districts, of all persons registered by them on said day, who give, as such place of previous registration a place in the same city, and shall forward the same to the commissioners for their information. Thereafter ,upon the return of the registers to the office of the commissioners, it shall be their duty to examine the same, and, wherever registered persons have given as their last place of registration another election district in the same city, to strike said name from the register of said district, of prior residence, and to note thereon the reason for so removing the name. At any time between the November election and the tenth day prior to the Spring primary, any registered elector who has removed from one election district to another in the same city, sixty days prior to the Spring primary, may apply at the office of the commissioners and have the registry of his name transferredfrom the district from which he has removed to the one in which he has taken up his new residence. It shall be the duty of the commissioners, upon satisfactory proof of the elector's identity, to strike his name from the register in the district from which he has removed, to examine him in the regular way as to his qualifications, and, if his answers are satisfactory, to register him in the district to which he has removed. (Act 1907, Sec. 5, P. L. 410.)

Parties or bodies of electors, who now are, or hereafter may be, entitled to have watchers at the general election, shall be allowed to appoint not more than three electors of the ward to act as watchers in each place of registry, without expense to the county, on each registration day. No more than one watcher from such party shall be allowed in the registry place at any one time. Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners, stating his name and the party or policy he represents. Watchers shall be entitled to be present during all of the public sessions herein provided for, and shall be required to show their certificates when requested to do so. They shall have the power to challenge. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 58.)

No more than six electors, other than the registrars and the watchers herein provided for shall be allowed in the registry room at any one time. (Act 1906, Sec. 12, P. L. 58.)

At the end of each day's registration the registrars shall compare the two registers, so kept, and cause any errors in either of them to be corrected by aid of the entries in the other, so as to make the same agree, where there is any difference between them. All of the registrars shall then sign their initials on the line immediately under the last names registered, under each letter, in both books, together with the date. At the close of both Fall and Winter registrations, the registrars shall sign a certificate, the form of which shall be printed on the last page of the register, setting forth the number of persons registered on each day, and the number of names which have been stricken out, if any. (Act 1906, Sec. 13, P. L. 58.)

The two registrars who have not charge of the registers shall, at both registrations, prepare two "street lists" of all names which are registered. These lists shall contain the names of the electors and their addresses, in the order in which their residences appear upon the streets of the district. (Act 1906, Sec. 14, P. L. 58.)

One of said street lists shall be hung outside of the polling-place and shall remain in that position until the next election. The other shall be returned to the office of the commissioners, and at least one hundred exact copies of it shall be printed in pamphlet form and shall be ready for distribution at least three weeks before election day. (Act 1906, Sec. 14, P. L. 58.)

If any citizen shall object to the action of the registrars in accepting or rejecting any claim for registration, he may file his petition, duly sworn to by said citizen, with the commissioners, setting forth the ground of his complaint. If the complaint is to the acceptance of a claim, notice to the claimant shall be given by leaving a written or printed notice at his place of residence, as given by him to the registrar and recorded in the register. When such petitions are filed the commissioners shall fix a time and place for hearing them, sufficiently in advance of the election to enable the same to be heard and disposed of prior thereto, and to have a review thereof by the courts. Such hearing shall be public, before the commissioners, and the register of voters may be amended, either by the insertion of a new name or the cancellation of a name already on the register, or otherwise, as the commissioners may order. The commissioners may enforce their orders as herein provided, or may make the amendments themselves or by their clerks. All such applications for correcting the register must be made not later than fifteen days prior to an election. (Act 1907, Sec. 6, P. L. 411.)

The applicant, or any elector who is not satisfied with the decision of the commissioners, may petition the court of common pleas, setting forth the reason why he feels that injustice has been done, and thereupon the said court of common pleas may, in its discretion, allow an appeal to it from the decision of the commissioners. The said court may then fix a day for a public hearing, of which notice shall be served by the petitioner upon the commissioners and upon the person or his attorney who opposed his contention before the commissioners, together with a copy of the petition, at least five days before such public hearing may take place, proof of which must be exhibited to the court. The said court, after such public hearing, may reverse, affirm, or alter the decision of the commissioners. Said petitions for appeals must be filed not later than ten days preceding an election. (Act 1907, Sec. 6, P. L. 411.)

Any qualified elector who is too ill to appear at the polling-place on all the registration days, or who was unavoidably absent from the county on all said days, may present his petition to the commissioners at any time, up to two weeks before the general election, setting forth the facts of his illness or unavoidable absence, and setting forth in detail, the information required to be recorded in the register, and praying that his name may be added to the register in the proper division. After this petition shall have remained in the office of the commissioners, open to public inspection, for at least two days, hearing shall be granted; the petitioner shall personally appear, and if the facts are proven, to the satisfaction of the commissioners, to be as reported, they shall order the name of the petitioner to be inserted in the register in the proper place. This hearing shall be public; and any qualified elector shall have the right to challenge and to require proper proof of identity, as in the case of registry before the registrars. If any person is not satisfied with the decision of the commissioners, he may appeal to the court of common pleas, as in other cases. The commissioners shall also have power to investigate, on their own motion, any irregularities in registration, and shall have power to summon witnesses, to examine them under oath, and to require the production of the books and papers of the registrars. (Act 1907, Sec. 6, P. L. 141.)

The two registrars designated to keep the two registers shall obtain, at the office of the commissioners the blank books, forms, and other supplies prepared for their use, before the first registration day in the Fall, and before the Spring registration day, and shall have the same at the polling-place on said days. On registration days, and during the time from one such day to another, until the close of the Fall registration period, the said registrars shall have the custody and control, and shall be charged with the safe-keeping of, the registers in which they have made entries, together with all affidavits, forms, et cetera, which have been taken in duplicate, as hereinbefore provided. During the same periods, the other two registrars shall be charged with the safe-keeping of the street-lists which are in course of preparation by them. At the close of the registration, and before twelve o'clock noon on the following day, the two registrars who have been charged with the keeping of the registers shall deliver the same, together with one street list, all affidavits, vouchers, unused forms, et cetera, to the registration commissioners, at such place as may be designated by them. The said papers and books shall remain on file at a place designated by the commissioners, open to public inspection, under proper regulations for their safe-keeping; subject, however, to the further provisions of this act. The registration commissioners shall have power to appoint a chief clerk, and fix his compensation, at a sum not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars per annum; a stenographer, who shall act as clerk, at a compensation not exceeding twelve hundred dollars per annum; and not more than fifteen clerks, for such time as may be necessary, at a compensation not exceeding three dollars per diem, for the time actually employed; and an attorney, whose compensation shall not exceed two thousand dollars per annum. The challenged applicant shall produce such further proof as the law requires challenged persons to produce on election day, and it shall be the duty of the registrars to require it before permitting him to be registered. All persons claiming the right to vote by reason of naturalization shall be required to produce the proper naturalization papers, or a certified copy thereof, before they shall be registered; but no such person shall be required to produce his papers a second time in the same precinct or ward unless he is challenged. Whenever the applicant is rejected, after a portion of the record has been filled in, a line shall be drawn through the record already made, and the registrars shall note on said line the reason for the rejection, and shall add their initials thereto. (Act 1906, Sec. 6, P. L. 69.)

On the registration day preceding the Spring Primary, the registrars shall, in addition to the registration of electors, strike from the list the names of such persons as shall be proven, to their satisfaction, by the affidavits of at least two qualified electors of the precinct or ward, to have died, or removed from the district, since the last registration. (Act 1907, Sec. 3, P. L. 254.)

Parties or bodies of electors, who are now, or hereafter may be entitled to have watchers at the general election, shall be allowed to appoint not more than three electors of the precinct or ward to act as watchers in each place of registry, without expense to the county, on each registration day. No more than one watcher from such party shall be allowed in the registry place at any one time. Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners, stating his name and the party or policy he represents. Watchers shall be entitled to be present during all of the public sessions herein provided for, and shall be required to show their certificates when requested to do so. They shall have the power to challenge. (Act 1906, Sec. 8, P. L. 70.)

No more than six electors, other than the registrars and the watchers herein provided for, shall be allowed in the registry room at any one time. (Act 1906, Sec. 9, P. L. 70.)

At the end of each day's registration the registrars shall compare the two registers, so kept, and cause any errors in either of them to be corrected by aid of the entries in the other, so as to make the same agree, where there is any difference between them. The registrars shall then sign their initials, on the line immediately under the last names registered, under each letter, in both books, together with the date. At the close of both Fall and Winter registrations, the registrars shall sign a certificate, the form of which shall be printed on the last page of the registers, setting forth the number of person registered on each day and the number of names which have been stricken out, if any. When such petitions are filed the county commissioners shall fix a time and place for hearing them, sufficiently in advance of the election to enable the same to be heard and disposed of prior thereto, and to have a review thereof by the courts. Such hearing shall be public, before the county commissioners, and the registers of voters may be amended, either by the insertion of a new name or the cancellation of a name already on the registers, or otherwise, as the county commissioners may order. The county commissioners may enforce their orders as herein provided, or may make the amendments themselves or by their clerks. All such applications for correcting the registers must be made not later than ten days prior to an election. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 71.)

The applicant, or any elector who is not satisfied with the decision of the county commissioners, may petition the court of common pleas, setting forth the reasons why he feels that injustice has been done, and thereupon the said court of common pleas may, in its discretion, allow an appeal to it from the decision of the county commissioners. And the said court, after a public hearing, may reverse, affirm or alter the decision of the county commissioners. Said appeals must be made not later than five days preceding an election. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 71.)

The registrars shall obtain, at the office of the county commissioners, the blank books, forms and other supplies prepared for their use, before the first registration day, and shall have the same at the polling-place on the said day. On registration days, and during the time from one such day to another, until the close of the registration period, the said registrars shall have the custody and control, and shall be charged with the safe-keeping, of the registers in which they have made entries, together with all affidavits, forms, and so forth, which have been taken in duplicate, as hereinbefore provided. On Saturday or Monday prior to the Spring Primary, the said registrars shall obtain from said office, each, the register kept by him, together with a sfficient number of blank forms and other supplies, and shall have the same at the polling-place for use on the registration day; and, as before, shall be charged with the safe-keeping of said records before noon of the day following the registration day. (Act 1907 Sec. 4, P. L. 254.)

The county commissioners of each county, upon proper vouchers, shall provide for the payment of the registrars provided by this act. They shall furnish proper rooms for the accommodation of themselves and their records. They shall also prepare and have printed, at the expense of the county, all the registers, affidavits, blanks, blank books, and stationery required by the provisions of this act, or which are reasonably necessary to carry out its provisions, and shall provide for their proper distribution to the registrars. It shall also be their duty to see that the polling-places are open and in proper order for the use of the registrars. They shall also deliver the two registers to the election officers, in the manner in which they are or may be required to deliver other materials for use on election day. (Act 1907, Sec. 4, P. L. 254.)

Any person whose name is on the register shall be entitled to vote at any general, special, municipal or primary election, unless it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the election officers, that he is no longer a resident of the election district in which he is registered: Provided. That if a special election shall intervene between registration day and the next general or municipal election, the presence of the name of an elector on the list shall only be prima facie evidence of his right to vote. If his name is not registered he shall not be entitled to vote at any election. Before receiving his ballot every voter shall satisfy the election officers of his identity, and, if challenged, by signing his name in the place provided for that purpose, if able to do so, and by the production of such other evidence as is or may be required by law. (Act 1907, Sec. 5, P. L. 256.)

The two registers shall be used at elections by the election officers, in the place of the ballot check-list and the voting check-list. One of the said registers shall be marked "ballot check-list," and the other shall be marked "voting check-list." After the polls are closed the names checked as having voted, in the said two registers, shall be immediately counted, and the result announced before the ballot box is opened. The two registers shall then be immediately sealed up in an envelope, and shall be returned to the custody of the county commissioners when the ballot box and other election returns are delivered to the proper officers. Primaries shall be conducted in conformity with the laws governing the conduct of general elections, in so far as the same are not modified by the provisions of this act or are not inconsistent with its terms: But, provided, That no elector shall be permitted to receive any assistance in marking his ballot, unless he shall first make an affidavit that he cannot read the names on the ballot, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot. (Act 1906, Sec. 8, P. L. 40.)

The county commissioners shall keep an accurate account of the entire expense of holding such primaries, including the preparation and delivery of supplies, voting materials, et cetera, and the total amount shall be paid, in the first instance, by the county treasurer, upon the order of the county commissioners. As soon as convenient thereafter, the county commissioners shall prepare an itemized statement of the amount so paid, verified by oath, and send the same, accompanied by the receipted vouchers, to the Auditor General, who, if he finds the same correct, shall draw a warrant on the State Treasurer, for the proper county, for the amount so approved, which shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of the money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated. (Act 1906, Sec. 9, P. L. 41.)

The qualifications of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at elections, within the election district where the primary is held. Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election district in which he offers to vote are, or hereafter may be, required by law to prove their qualifications or identity, on election day. (Act 1906, Sec. 10, P. L. 41.)

Each elector shall have the right to receive the ballot of the party for which he asks: Provided, That if he is challenged, he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that, at the next preceding general election at which he voted he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party for whose ballot he asks. (Act 1906, Sec. 10, P. L. 41.)

Upon executing such affidavit the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called, and to cast his vote according to law. (Act 1906, Sec. 10, P. L. 41.)

The ballot-boxes, lists of voters (a copy of which shall be posted outside the polling-place), and other records shall be delivered into the custody of the officers who now are, or hereafter may be, required by law to keep similar records of election. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 41.)

Upon the closing of the polls at such primary election, the election officers shall forthwith proceed to open the ballot-boxes and take therefrom the ballots, and first count the number cast for each party, and make a record thereof; and then count the vote cast for the different persons named upon said party ballots; and, when said count is finally completed, they shall certify, in due and proper form, to the number of votes cast for each person upon the respective party tickets. They shall then replace the ballots, counted and canvassed, in the boxes, and lock the same. They shall place the returns of votes and the register of voters, aforesaid, for each party, in separate envelopes, and seal the same; which said envelopes shall, on or before noon of the Tuesday following, be deposited by the judge of election in person, or by registered mail, with the county commissioners, who shall on the succeeding day, at noon, publicly commence the computation and canvassing of the returns, and continue the same from day to day until completed; and for that purpose to have the right to petition the court of common pleas for the use of its processes to enforce the provisions of this act in relation to the returns of the election officers. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 41.)

Upon petition of ten qualified electors, of any county, setting forth that fraud has been committed in any election district of said county, together with a statement of the reasons why such an assertion is made, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to open the ballot-box of the said district and to recount the votes. Any person aggrieved by any decision of the county commissioners relative to the counting of the votes may appeal thereform to the court of common pleas of the proper county, whose duty it shall be to hear said appeal, and to make such decree as right and justice shall require: Provided, however, That in case of a contest of delegates to a State convention, such contests shall be determined by the State convention, according to the rules of their respective parties. Contests of primaries shall be originated and conducted as in the case of elections. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 41.)

The county commissioners shall make the proper certification of returns of votes cast for the candidates for nomination for members of Congress or for State offices to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, who shall tabulate the same, and shall certify to the county commissioners the result of the computation of the vote for such offices, at least forty days prior to the election. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 41.)

Candidates for offices of the Commonwealth, to be voted for by electors of the State at large, shall be nominated by the State conventions, for which delegates are elected in accordance with the terms of this act. The delegates who receive a plurality of the vote of party electors at the Spring primary shall be the duly elected delegates to the respective State and National conventions. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 199.)

Candiates for nomination, as provided herein, who receive a plurality of votes of any party at a primary meeting, shall be the candidates of that party, and it shall be the duty of the proper officers to print their names upon the official ballots, for use at the election, as is now or hereafter may be required by law. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 199.)

Candidates for party offices, who receive a plurality of the votes cast for such candidates, shall be the party officers of such party. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 199.)

In case of a tie, the candidates receiving the tie vote shall cast lots before the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth, as the case may be, and the one to whom the lot shall fall shall be entitled to the nomination or election. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 199.)

Vacancies happening or existing after the date of the primary may be filled in accordance with the party rules, as is now or hereafter may be provided by law. (Act 1907, Sec. 1, P. L. 199.)

Each candidate shall be entitled to have two watchers at the primaries, as at elections, only one of whom shall be entitled to be within the polling room at one time. Their rights, duties and methods of appointment shall be as at elections. Each party or candidate may, at any time before the primary, present a petition to the court of common pleas of the proper county, setting forth the fact that it or he has reason to believe that in a certain district or districts fraud or unfair methods may be attempted; and if, upon a consideration of the facts presented in said petition, the court shall be of the opinion that said application is made in good faith, the said court shall appoint an overseer for said petitioner or petitioners, who shall be entitled to remain within the polling-place during the casting and the counting of the ballots. (Act 1906, Sec. 13, P. L. 43.)

No police officer in commission, whether in uniform or in citizens clothes, shall be within one hundred feet of a polling place during the conduct of a primary election, unless in the exercise of his privilege of voting, or for the purpose of the serving of warrants or the preserving of the peace. (Act 1906, Sec. 14, P. L. 43.)

B. NOMINATIONS BY CONVENTIONS AND BY NOMINATION PAPERS.

Any convention of delegates, or primary meeting of electors, or caucus held under the rules of a political party, or any board authorized to certify nominations representing a political party, which, at the election next preceding, polled at least two per centum of the largest entire vote for any office cast in the State, or in the electoral district or division thereof for which such primary meeting, caucus, convention or board, desires to make or certify nominations, may nominate one candidate for each office other than offices for which nominations are regulated by Sections 78 to 115 of this Code, which is to be filled in the State, or in the said district or division, at the next ensuing election by causing a certificate of nomination to be drawn up and filed as hereinafter provided. Every such certificate of nomination shall be signed by the presiding officer and the secretary or secretaries of the convention, or primary meeting, or caucus, or board, who shall add thereto their places of residence, and shall be sworn or affirmed to by them before an officer qualified to administer oaths, to be true to the best of their knowledge and belief, and a certificate of the oath shall be annexed to the certificate of nomination: Provided, That if any political party has by its rules provided for a registration of candidates for nominations, and at the time limited for such registration, or at any subsequent time, by reason of withdrawal or other cause there shall be no more candidates for any office registered or remaining than are to be elected to such office, the person or persons so registered or remaining shall be deemed the nominee or nominees, with the same effect as if he or they had been nominated by a convention or primary meeting, or caucus, or board. And one or more or all the officers of the committee of such political party with which such registration shall be made, or the officer with whom it is made, shall make a certificate of such nomination in the same manner and with the same effect as if there had been a nomination by a convention or primary meeting or caucus or board. (Act 1897, Sec. 1, P. L. 179.)

Nominations of candidates for any public office other than candidates of political parties for offices for which nominations are regulated by sections 78 to 115 of this Code, may also be made by nomination papers, signed by qualified electors of the State, or of the electoral district or division thereof for which the nomination is made, and filed in the proper office as provided in Section 119 of this Code. Blank forms for making such nomination shall be furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and no other form than the ones so prescribed shall be used for such purpose. Where the nomination is for any office to be filled by the voters of the State-at-large, the number of qualified electors of the State signing such nomination paper, shall be at least one-half of one per centum of the largest vote for any officer elected in the State at the last preceding election at which a State officer was voted for. In the case of all other nominations the number of qualified electors of the electoral district or division, signing such nomination paper, shall be at least two per centum of the largest entire vote for any officer elected at the last preceding election in the said electoral district or division for which said nomination papers are designed to be made. Each elector signing a nomination paper shall add to his signature his place of residence and occupation, and no person may subscribe to more than one nomination for each office to be filled. The signature to each nomination paper and the qualification of the signers shall be vouched for by the affidavit of at least five of the signers thereof, which affidavit shall accompany the nomination paper: Provided, That if five of the electors composing any political body making a nomination by nomination papers shall file with the prothonotary of the county in which the nomination paper or papers are to be filed an affidavit setting forth that they have adopted a certain political appellation to designate their policy, subject to the limitations of this act regarding the selection of names, that thereafter such political body shall have the exclusive right to use the said name or appellation for the election for which such nomination or nominations are made, provided that a certificate from the prothonotary setting forth such a compliance with the act be filed with the nomination papers filed by such political body. (Act 1897, Sec. 1, P. L. 223.)

All certificates of nomination and nomination papers shall specify: One (1). The party or policy which such candidate represents, expressed in not more than three words; in the case of electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President shall be added to the party or political appellation. Two (2). The name of each candidate nominated therein, his profession, business or occupation, if any, and his place of residence, with the street and number thereon, if any. Three (3). The office for which such candidate is nominated: Provided, That no words shall be used in any nomination papers, to describe or designate the party or policy, or political appellation, represented by the candidate named in such nomination papers as aforesaid, identical with the words used for the like purposes in certificates of nominations made by a convention of delegates, or primary meeting of electors, or caucus held under the rules of a political party, or any board authorized to certify nominations, representing a political party which, at the last preceding election, polled two per centum of the largest vote cast: And provided further, That any objections filed to a nomination certificate or paper on account of the party or political appellation used therein, or involving the right as defined by Sections 116 and 117 of this Code, to file such certificate or paper, shall be decided by the court of common pleas on hearing as hereinfter provided. (Act 1897, Sec. 2, P. L. 224.)

Certificates of nomination for candidates for the offices of presidential electors and members of the House of Representatives of the United States and for State offices in cases where nominations to such officers may by law be made by certificate of nomination or nomination papers, including those of judges, Senators and Representatives, shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth at least forty-two days before the day of election for which the candidates are nominated, and nomination papers for candidates for the said offices shall be filed with the said Secretary at least thirty-five days before the day of such election. Certificates of nomination and nomination papers for candidates for all other offices in cases where nominations to such offices may by law be made by certificate of nomination or nomination papers, except township and borough offices, shall be filed with the county commissioners of the respective counties at least twenty-eight and twenty-one days, respectively, before the day of election. Certificates of nomination and nomination papers for candidates for township and borough offices, and election officers and school directors in the same shall be filed with the county commissioners at least eighteen and fifteen days, respectively, before the day of election. In determining or reckoning any period of time mentioned in this act, the day upon which the act is done, paper filed or notice given, shall be excluded therefrom, and the day of election shall be included in the calculation or reckoning. (Act 1897, Sec. 3, P. L. 225.)

It shall be the duty of the officer or officers to whom any nomination certificate or paper is brought for the purpose of filing, to examine the said certificate or paper, and if it lack sufficient signatures or be otherwise manifestly defective, it shall not be filed, but the action of said officer or officers in refusing to receive a certificate or paper, may be reviewed by the court of common pleas of the county upon an application for a mandamus to compel its reception as of the date when it was brought to the office. All nominations, certificates and papers which have been filed shall be deemed valid, unless objections thereto are duly made, by writing filed in the court of common pleas of the county in which the certificate or paper objected to has been filed, and with the officer or officers with whom such certificates have been filed, and within the following periods:

First. In the case of certificates and papers filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, at least thirty-five days before the day of election, in the case of certificates of nomination, and at least twenty-eight days before the day of election, in the case of nomination papers.

Second. In case of other certificates and papers, except those designed for borough and township officers, at least eighteen days before the day of election.

Third. In the case of other certificates and papers, designed for borough and township officers, at least twelve days before the day of election. In case the court is in session, one or more judges thereof shall proceed to hear such objections, without unnecesary adjournment or delay, and shall give such hearing precedence over all other business before him or them. With respect to certificates and papers filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, such objections shall be heard, and finally determined, at least sixteen days before the day of election. In case the court is not in session, any judge thereof, on the presentation to him of the certificate of the prothonotary that such objecions have been filed, as aforesaid, shall proceed to hear such objection as aforesaid. No objection, of any nature whatever, shall be filed unless accompanied by proper proof of service of notice of the proposed objection upon at least one of the candidates named in the certificate or paper objected to, nor shall any objections be heard in the absence of any of the said candidates without proof of service or notice of the hearing upon them. If the court decide that the certificate or paper objected to was not filed by parties entitled, under this act, to file the same, it shall be wholly void; but if it be adjudged defective only, the court shall indicate the matters as to which it requires amendment, and the time within which such amendment must be made; and every certificate or paper, amended after the time when the names therein contained have been sent to the sheriff, shall be subject to the provisions of this act concerning substituted nominations. In case the objections filed to any nomination are not sustained by the court, the petitioner or petitioners shall be liable for and shall pay the whole of the costs of such proceedings, including all witness fees. The officers with whom nomination certificates and papers have been filed shall permit the political parties, or bodies, who have filed them, to amend them of their own motion, at any time prior to the printing of the ballot. (Act 1903, Sec. 1, P. L. 224.)

Any person whose name has been presented as a candidate may cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination, by request in writing signed by him and acknowledged before an officer qualified to take acknowledgments of deeds, and filed in the office where his nomination certificate or paper is on file fifteen days, or in the case of township and borough elections twelve days, previous to the day of the election; and no name so withdrawn shall be printed upon the ballots. (Act 1893, Sec. 7, P. L. 421.)

Where any office not in court of record shall for any cause become vacant after the time for making nominations for such office shall have elapsed, or when a writ for a special election to supply a vacancy shall direct such election to be held at a date which would prevent the making of nominations in time to comply with section 119 of this Code, nominations for the office to be filled may still be made in accordance with sections 116 and 117 of this Code, but in other respects the provisions of section 126 of this Code shall apply to such nominations. (Act 1893, Sec. 7, P. L. 421.)

All certificates of nomination and nomination papers when filed shall be open under proper regulations to public inspection, and shall be preserved not less than two years in the offices where they have been filed. (Act 1893, Sec. 8, P. L. 421.)

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, fourteen days at least previous to the day of any election of United States or State officers, or for the adoption of amendemtns to the Constitution of this Commonwealth, transmit to the county commissioners and the sheriff in each county, in which such election is to be held, duplicate official lists, stating the names and residences of, and parties or policies represented by, all candidates whose nomination certificates or papers have been filed with him as herein provided for such election, and have not been found and declared to be invalid as provided in section six, and to be voted for at each voting place in each county, respectively, substantially in the form of the ballots to be used therein; duplicate copies of the text of all proposed constitutional amendments to be voted upon at such election. The county commissioners of each county shall also send to the sheriff of their county, at least ten days prior to the day of any general election, an official list, containing the names and party or political appellations of all candidates whose nomination certificates or papers have been filed with the said commissioners, as herein provided for such election, and to be voted for at each voting place in the county, substantally in the form of the ballots to be used therein. (Act 1903, Sec. 1, P. L. 338.)

In case of the death or withdrawal of any candidate nominated as herein provided, the party convention, primary meeting, caucus or board, or the citizens who nominated such candidate, may nominate a substitute in his place, by filling in the proper office at any time before the day of election, a nomination certificate or paper which shall conform to all the requirements of this act in regard to original certificates or papers: Provided, That if the said convention or citizen shall have authorized any committee, or if any executive committee of any political party be authorized by the rules of said party, to make nominations in the event of the death or withdrawal of candidates, the said convention shall not be required to reconvene nor the said citizens to sign a new nomination paper, but the said committee shall have power to file the requisite nomination certificate or paper, which shall recite the facts of the appointment and powers of the said committee (naming all its members), of the death, or withdrawal of the candidate, and of the action of the committee thereon, and the truth of these facts shall be verified by the affidavit annexed to the certificate or paper of two members of the committee, and also of at least two of the officers of the convention who made affidavit in support of the original certificate, or two of the citizens who made affidavit to the original paper: And provided also, That in case of a substituted nomination paper not filed by a committee, but signed by citizens, it shall only be necessary that two-thirds of the signers of the said paper shall have been signers of the original paper. (Act 1893, Sec. 11, P. L. 424.)

All substituted nomination certificates or papers may be objected to as provided in section 120 of this Code, and if a substituted certificate or paper be filed after the last day for filing the original certificate or paper, objections must be made within four days after the filing, and no objections as to form and conformity to law shall be received after the time set for printing the ballots. (Act 1893, Sec. 12, P. L. 424.)

As soon as any substituted candidate shall have been duly nominated, his name shall be substituted by the proper officers in the place of that of the candidate who has died or withdrawn so far as time may allow, and in case a substituted nomination be filed with or transmitted to the county commissioners after the ballots have been printed, the said commissioners shall prepare and distribute with the ballots suitable slips of paper bearing the substituted name, together with the title of the office, and having adhesive paste upon the reverse side, which shall be offered to each voter with the regular ballot and may be affixed thereto. (Act 1893, Sec. 12, P. L. 424.)

III. FORM OF BALLOT.

When Presidential electors are to be voted for, the names of candidates for Presidential electors shall be arranged in party groups, as represented in the several certificates of party nomination and nomination papers, and the groups shall be printed upon the ballot in order of the vote obtained in the State, at the last Presidential election, by the parties nominating, beginning with the party which obtained the highest vote: Provided, That in the case of political parties not represented on the ballot in the last Presidential election, the order of arrangement shall be alphabetically. (Act 1903, Sec 2, P. L. 340.)

At the head of each group of candidates shall be printed the appropriate party name or political appellation, together with the surnames of the candidates of such party for President and Vice-President, underneath which shall be printed the names of the appropriate candidates for Presidential electors. (Act 1903, Sec. 2, P. L. 340.)

At the right of the space containing the surnames of the candidates for President and Vice-President, and their party name or political appellation, there shall be a square, of sufficient size for the convenient insertion of a cross-mark (X), and at the right of the name of each candidtae for Presidential elector, there shall be a similar, but smaller, square. (Act 1903, Sec. 2, P. L. 340.)

The names of candidates for all other offices shall, in all cases, be arranged under the title of the office for which they are candidates, and be printed in the order of the votes obtained for the head of the respective tickets of the parties or bodies nominating at the last Presidential election, beginning with the party obtaining the highest vote: Provided, That in the case of parties not represented on the ballot at the last Presidential election, the name of the nominees of such parties shall be arranged alphabetically, according to the party name or political appellation. At the right of the name of each nominee, or candidate, shall be printed the name or appellation of the political party presenting or nominating him, and at the right of such party name, or political appellation, there shall be a square of sufficinet size for the convenient insertion of a cross-mark. (Act 1903, Sec. 2, P. L. 340.)

Whenever any candidate shall receive more than one nomination for the same office, his name shall be printed once, and the names of each political party, so nominating him, shall be printed to the right of the name of such candidate, arranged in the same order as candidates' names are grouped, that is to say, in the order of the votes obtained by such party at the last preceding Presidential election, beginning with the party obtaining the highest vote. If such candidate shall be nominated by any political party not represented on the ballot in the last Presidential election, the name of such party shall follow the other names, and be arranged alphabetically, according to the party name or appellation. At the right of every party name, or political appellation, shall be a square, of sufficient size for the convenient insertion of a cross-mark. (Act 1903, Sec. 2, P. L. 340.)

There shall be left, at the end of the groups of candidates for Presidential electors, and of the list of candidates for each different office (or under the title of the office itself for which an election is to be held, in case there be no candidates legally nominated therefor), as many blank spaces as there are persons to be voted for, for such office, in which space the voter may insert the name of any person whose name is not printed on the ballot as a candidate for such office, and such insertion shall count as a vote, without the cross-mark as hereinafter mentioned. (Act 1903, Sec. 2, P. L. 340.)

Whenever the approval of a constitutional amendment, or other question, is submitted to the vote of the people, such question shall be printed upon the ballot in brief form, and followed by the words, "yes" and "no," and if such question be submitted at an election of public officers, it shall be printed after the list of candidates. (Act 1903, Sec. 2, P. L. 340.)

The ballots shall be so printed as to give to each voter a clear opportunnity to designate his choice of candidates by a cross-mark (X), in a square of sufficient size at the right of the name of each candidate, and inside the line enclosing the column, and, in like manner, answers to questions submitted, by similar marks, in squares at the right of the words "yes" and "no," and on the ballot may be printed instructions how to mark, and such words as will aid the voter to do this, as "mark one," "mark two," and the like. Provided, That a voter may designate his choice of an entire group of candidates for Presidential electors by one cross-mark (X), in a large square, which shall be placed at the right of the names of the candidates for President and Vice-President, at the head of such group, and such mark shall be equivalent to a mark against every name in the group: Provided further, That each voter may have the opportunity of designating his choice for all the candidates, as nominated by one political party, there shall be printed on the extreme left of the ballot, and separated from the rest of the ballot by a space of at least one-half inch, a list of the names of all the political parties or groups of nominees, represented on such ballot and presenting candidates to be voted for at such election. Such names shall be arranged in the order of the votes obtained, at the last Presidential election, by the candidate at the head of the respective tickets of the parties or bodies nominating, beginning with the party that received the highest vote cast. Following the names of such political parties, shall be the names of the parties or principles not presented on the ballot at the last Presidential election, arranged alphabetically, according to the party name or political appellation. A square, of sufficient size for the convenient insertion of a cross-mark, shall be placed at the right of each party name or appellation. Every mark within such square shall be equivalent to a mark against every name designated by that political appellation, or party name, including candidates nominated by more than one party, or group of citizens. (Act 1903, Sec. 2, P. L. 340.)

At the head of every ballot shall be printed the following instructions:

To vote a straight party ticket, mark a cross (X) in the the square opposite the name of the party of your choice, in the first column. A cross-mark in the square opposite the name of any candidate, indicates a vote for that candidate. (Act 1903, Sec. 2, P. L. 340.)

All the ballots used at the same voting place at any election shall be alike, and shall be at least six inches long and four inches wide. They shall be printed with the same kind or kinds of type (which shall not be smaller than the size known as "brevier" or "eight-point body"), upon white paper without any impression or mark to distinguish one from another, and of sufficient thickness to prevent the printed matter from showing through. Each ballot shall be attached to a stub or counterfoil, and all the ballots for the same voting place shall be bound together in convenient numbers in books in such manner that each ballot may be detached and removed separately. (Act 1893, Sec. 15, P. L. 426.)

On the back of each ballot, or on the right hand side of the back, if the ballot is printed in two columns, there shall be printed as a caption, "official ballot for," followed by the designation of the voting place for which the ballot is prepared, the date of the election and a fac-simile of the signatures of the county commissioners of the respective counties who have caused the ballots to be printed. When it is shown by affidavit that mistake or omission has occurred in the publication of names or description of candidates, or in the printing of the ballots, the court of common pleas of the district or county, or any judge thereof, may upon the application of any qualified elector of the district or county require the county commissioners to correct the mistake or omission, or to show cause why they should not. (Act 1893, Sec. 15, P. L. 426.)

And if said election officers shall refuse to permit said oversers to be present, and perform their duties as aforesaid, such officer or officers shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to prepare forms for all the blanks made necessary or advisable by this act, and to furnish copies of the same to the county commissioners of each county, who shall procure further copies of the same at the cost of the county and furnish them to the election officers or other persons by whom they are to be used, in such quantities as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. (Act 1893, Sec. 1, P. L. 419.)

The county commissioners of each county shall cause all the ballots to be used therein to be printed. The said commissioners shall ascertain the office to be filled and shall be responsible for the accurate printing of the ballots in accordance with this act, and for the safe-keeping of the same while in their possession, or that of their subordinates or agents. (Act 1893, Sec. 13, P. L. 424.)

A record of the number of ballots printed and furnished to each voting place shall be kept and preserved by the county commissioners of the several counties. (Act 1893, Sec. 15, P. L. 426.)

The county commissioners of each county shall provide for each election district in which an election is to be held, one set of such ballots of not less than seventy-five for every fifty and fraction of fifty voters therein, as contained upon the assessor's list. They shall also prepare full instructions for the guidance of voters, as to obtaining ballots, as to the manner of marking them and the method of gaining assistance, and as to obtaining new ballots in place of those accidentally spoiled; and they shall respectively cause the same, together with copies of sections 271, 272, 280, 296, 299, 311 inclusive of this Code, to be printed in large clear type, on separate cards to be called Cards of Instruction. They shall also, in addition to the number of tickets required to be printed for general distribution, have printed five hundred official and one hundred sample ballots for every five thousand voters within the county, which tickets shall be kept at the office of the commissioners for the use of any district or districts, the tickets for which may be lost or destroyed. They shall also cause to be printed on tinted paper and without the fac simile endorsements, copies of the form of the ballot provided for each voting place at each election therein, which shall be called Specimen Ballots, and at each election they shall furnish to each voting place, together with the ballots to be used there, a sufficient number of cards of instruction and specimen ballots for use as required in section 198 of this Code. They shall also provide for each election district other than districts in cities of the first, second and third class, at every election therein, two copies of the assessor's list of voters, and shall deliver the same as such lists are now delivered, one copy to be called the "ballot check-list," for the inspectors in charge of the ballots, and the other copy to be called the "voting check-list," to be used in marking the name of those who have voted. (Act 1893, Sec. 16, P. L. 427.)

They shall also cause to be delivered to one of the inspectors of every election district, within their respective counties, a sufficient number of boxes to contain the tickets (unless the same has already been provided for said township), blank forms of election oaths, tally-papers and returns made out in a proper manner and headed as the nature of the election may require. (Act 1840, Sec. 7, P. L. 686.)

At township elections, they shall, in addition to the foregoing, deliver to the aforesaid inspectors a sufficient number of blank forms of certificates of election for each person elected to any office voted for at township elections. (Act 1840, Sec. 7, P. L. 686.)

All the duties imposed by this act upon county commissioners shall be performed, in the city of Philadelphia, by the city commissioners. (Act 1874, Sec. 24, P. L. 42.)

The ballots, together with the specimen ballots and cards of instruction printed by the county commissioners as herein provided, shall be packed by them in separate sealed packages with marks on the outside clearly designating the election districts for which they are intended and the number of ballots of each kind enclosed. (Act 1893, Sec. 17, P. L. 427.)

They shall then be sent by the county commissioners of the respective counties to the judges of election at the several voting places so as to be received by them on the Saturday or Monday before election. The respective judges of election shall on delivery to them of such packages, return receipts therefor to the commissioners, who shall keep a record of the time when and the manner in which the several packages are sent, and shall preserve for the period of one year, the receipts of the said judges of election. (Act 1893, Sec. 17, P. L. 427.)

The commissioners of any county may, if they prefer, instead of sending the packages to the judges or any number of them in the manner aforesaid, notify the judges of the election districts for which the said commissioners are required to provide ballots, to come to the said commissioners' office on the day before the election, at a time specified, and it shall be the duty of each of the said judges to come to the said office at that time, and there on presentation of his certificate of election as judge, to receive and receipt for one package of ballots, specimen ballots and cards of instruction, for use in his election district. He shall keep the said package sealed and shall be responsible for the safekeeping thereof until the ballots are used at the election. In case a judge of the election is prevented by illness from performing the duties aforesaid, he shall depute one of the inspectors to act in his place. (Act 1893, Sec. 17, P. L. 427.)

In case the ballots to be furnished to any voting place in accordance with the provisions of this act shall fail for any reason to be duly delivered, or in case after delivery they shall be destroyed or stolen, it shall be the duty of the judge of election of such voting place to cause other ballots to be prepared substantially in the form of the ballots so wanting, and upon receipt of such other ballots from him, accompanied by a statement under oath that the same have been so prepared and furnished by him, and that the original ballots have so failed to be received, or have been so destroyed or stolen, the election officers shall cause the ballots so substitutued to be used in lieu of the ballots wanting as above. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county to mail complete specimens of the ballots and other necessary papers by registered letter to the judge of elections of each election district, at least four days before the election, to enable him to comply with the directions of this section. (Act 1893, Sec. 18, P. L. 427.)

The county commissioners of each county shall provide for each election district therein, at each election, a room large enough to be fitted up with voting shelves and a guard rail as hereinafter provided. If in any district no such room can be rented or otherwise obtained, the said commissioners shall cause to be constructed for such district a temporary room of adequate size to be used as a voting room. They shall also cause all the said rooms to be suitably provided with heat and light, and with a sufficient number of voting shelves or compartments at or in which voters may conveniently mark their ballots, with a curtain, screen or door at the upper part of the front of each compartment, so that in the marking thereof they may be screened from the observation of others, and a guard rail shall be so constructed and placed that only such persons as are inside said rail can approach within six feet of the ballot-box and of such voting shelves or compartments. The arrangement shall be such that neither the ballot box nor the voting booths shall be hidden from view of those just outside the said guard rail. The number of such voting shelves or compartments shall not be less than one for every seventy-five names on the assessor's lists; but shall not in any case be less than three for the voters qualified to vote at such voting place. No person other than the election officers and voters admitted as hereinafter provided, shall be permitted within the said rail, except by authority of the election officers for the purpose of keeping order and enforcing the law. Each voting shelf or compartment shall be kept provided with proper supplies and conveniences for marking the ballots. (Act 1893, Sec. 19, P. L. 428.)

The supervisors, road commissioners or other officers having in charge the constructing and keeping in repair the public roads in any township in this Commonwealth, are hereby authorized, at their option, to cause a suitable lot of ground to be procured and cause a suitable building to be erected thereon for a town house in which to hold elections, store road machinery, hold meetings of township officers, and for other township uses. (Act 1895, Sec. 1, P. L. 324.)

The commissioners of the several counties of this Commonwealth are hereby authorized and empowered to fix the compensation for lights, rent and fuel for election purposes, in each and every township, borough, ward and election district in the respective counties, which said compensation shall be fixed and established at least once every three years, by resolution duly entered upon the minutes of said commissioners; and the said expenses shall be paid (on bills certified by election officers) by said respective counties, according to the compensation so ascertained and entered upon said minutes, and not otherwise. (Act 1876, Sec. 1, P. L. 136.)

At all elections held under the laws of this Commonwealth the polls shall be open at seven o'clock a. m., and closed at seven o'clock p. m. (Act 1874, Sec. 5, P. L. 34.)

At the opening of the polls in each voting place the seals of the packages shall be publicly broken and the said package shall be opened by the judge of elections. The cards of instruction shall be immediately posted at or in each voting shelf or compartment provided in accordance with this act for the marking of the ballots, and not less than three such cards and not less than five specimen ballots shall be immediately posted in or about the voting room outside the guard rail; and such cards and specimen ballots shall be given to any voter at his request. (Act 1893, Sec. 20, P. L. 429.)

At the opening of the polls it shall be the duty of the judge of election to designate one of the inspectors whose duty it shall be to have charge of the ballot check list, and the other inspector shall have charge of the voting check list. (Act 1874, Sec. 8, P. L. 34.)

Any person desiring to vote shall give his name and residence to one of the election officers in charge of the ballots, who shall thereupon announce the same in a loud and distinct tone of voice, and if such name is found upon the ballot check list by the inspector or clerks in charge thereof, he shall likewise repeat the said name, and the other shall be allowed to enter the space enclosed by the guard rail, unless his right to vote be challenged. No person whose name is not on the said list, or whose right to vote shall be challenged by a qualified citizen, shall be admitted within said guard rail until he has established his right to vote in the manner now provided by law, and his name, if not on the check lists, shall then be added to both lists except in cities of the first, second and third classes, where, if his name is not on registry list, he shall not be entitled to vote. As soon as a voter is admitted within the rail the election officer having charge of the ballots shall detach a ballot from the stub and give it to the said voter, but shall first fold it so that the words printed on the back and outside, as provided in section 138 of this Code, shall be the only wording visible and no ballot shall be voted unless folded in the same manner. Not more than one ballot shall be given to a voter except as provided in section 208 of this Code. As soon as a voter receives a ballot the letter "B" shall be marked against his name on the margin of the ballot check list; but no record of the number of the ballots shall be made on the said lists. Besides the election officers and such supervisors as are authorized by the laws of the United States or overseers appointed by the courts of this Commonwealth, not more than four voters in excess of the number of voting shelves or compartments provided, shall be allowed in said enclosed space at one time. (Act 1893, Sec. 21, P. L. 429.)

On receipt of his ballot, the voter shall forthwith, and without leaving the space enclosed by the guard rail, retire to one of the voting shelves or compartments, and draw a curtain, or shut the screen or door, and shall then prepare his ballot as follows: (Act 1903, Sec. 3, P. L. 343.)

If he desires to vote for every candidate of a political party, he may make a cross-mark in the appropriate square, opposite the name of the party of his choice, in the straight party column on the left of the ballot, and every such cross-mark shall be equivalent to a vote for every candidate for the party so marked. (Act 1903, Sec. 3, P. L. 343.)

If he desires to vote for an entire group of Presidential electors, he may place a cross-mark in the appropriate square, at the right of the name of the party of his choice. It he desires to divide his vote among candidates from different groups of Presidential electors, he shall make a cross-mark in the appropriate square, to the right of the name of each candidate for Presidential elector for whom he desires to vote: Provided, That a mark in the straight party column, opposite the name of the party of his choice, shall also be counted as a mark for each Presidential elector nominated by such party. (Act 1903, Sec. 3, P. L. 343.)

He may vote, according to the above provisions, for the candidate of his choice for each office to be filled, according to the number of persons to be voted for by him for each office, or he may insert in the blank space provided therefor, in accordance with section 133 of this Code, any name not already on the ballot. And in case of a question submitted to the vote of the people, he may mark in the appropriate margin or space a cross (X), opposite the answer which he desires to give. In all cases where, by existing laws, a voter is entitled to cast more than one vote for a single candidate he shall place in the appropriate square, instead of a cross (X), a number, which shall indicate the number of votes to be counted for the candidate whose name is so marked. (Act 1903, Sec. 3, P. L. 343.)

Before leaving the voting shelf or compartment the voter shall fold his ballot, without displaying the markings thereon in the same way it was folded when received by him, and he shall keep the same so folded and deposit it in the ballot box without undue delay, and shall quit the enclosed space immediately thereafter. (Act 1903, Sec. 3, P. L. 343.)

If any voter declares to the judge of election that by reason of any disability he desires assistance in the preparation of his ballot, he shall be permitted by the judge of election to select a qualified voter of the election district to aid him in the preparation of his ballot, such preparation being made in the voting compartment. (Act 1893, Sec. 26, P. L. 432.)

It shall be the duty of each inspector who shall receive the ticket of an elector to call out aloud the name of such elector, which shall be entered by the clerks in separate lists, and the name shall be repeated by each of them, and the inspector shall insert the letter V in the margin of the alphabetical list, opposite the name of such elector, and if such elector shall have been sworn or affirmed, or produced a certificate or other evidence as before provided, of having been naturalized, the inspector shall also note the same on the margin of such list; and where proof of residence is made, shall also note the name of the person making such proof. (Act 1839, Sec. 70, P. L. 534.)

No person other than the election officers shall take or remove any ballot from the voting place. If any voter inadvertently spoils a ballot he may obtain another upon returning the spoiled one. The ballots thus returned shall be immediately canceled and at the close of the polls shall be secured in an envelope, sealed and sent to the proper office, as required by law in the case of ballots cast. (Act 1893, Sec. 25, P. L. 432.)

No voter shall be allowed to occupy a voting shelf or compartment already occupied by another, except when giving the help allowed by section 206 of this Code, nor to remain within said compartment more than three minutes, in case all such compartments are in use and other voters are waiting to occupy the same. No voter not an election officer shall be allowed to re-enter the enclosed space after he has once left it, except to give help as hereinafter described. Every voter's name shall be checked on the voting check-list by the officer having charge thereof, as soon as he has cast his vote in the manner provided in section 207. It shall be the duty of the judge of election to secure the observation of the provisions of this section, to keep order in the room in which the voting is held and to see that no more persons are admitted within the enclosed space than are allowed by this act. Each party which has by its primary meeting, caucus, convention or board, sent to the proper office a certificate of nomination, and each group of citizens which has sent to the proper office a nomination paper shall be allowed to appoint three qualified electors who must be three electors resident of the division in which they are authorized to act as watchers in each voting place without expense to the county, one of whom shall be allowed to remain in the room outside of the enclosed space. Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners, stating his name, the names of the persons who have appointed him and the party or policy he represents; and no party or policy shall be represented by more than one watcher in the same voting room at any time. Watchers shall be required to show their certificates when required to do so. Until the polls are closed, no persons shall be allowed in the room outside of the said enclosed space except these watchers, voters not exceeding ten at any one time who are waiting their turn to prepare their ballots, and peace officers when necessary for the preservation of the peace. No person when within the voting room shall electioneer or solicit votes for any party or candidate nor shall any written or printed matter be posted up within said room except as required by law. When the hour for closing the polls shall arrive all persons within the enclosed space who have received ballots but have not yet deposited them, shall be required to mark and deposit their ballots forthwith, but no other person shall be allowed to vote. (Act 1903, Sec. 1, P. L. 213.)

If a voter has marked his ballot otherwise than as directed by this act, so that for any reason it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office to be filled, his ballot shall not be counted for such office; but the ballot shall be counted for all other offices for which the names of candidates have been properly marked. (Act 1903, Sec. 4, P. L. 345.)

No ballot without the official endorsement shall, except as herein otherwise provided, be allowed to be deposited in the ballot-box, and none but ballots provided in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be counted. Ballots not marked, or improperly or defectively marked, shall be endorsed as defective, but shall be preserved with the other ballots. If any ballot appears to have been obtained otherwise than as provided in this act, the judge of elections shall transmit such ballot to the district attorney, without delay, together with whatever information he may have tending to the detection of the person who deposited the same. (Act 1903, Sec. 4, P. L. 345.)

No list or memorandum of the names of voters, except such lists as are expressly authorized by law, shall be made within the voting-room by any person or officer, but watchers may keep their poll-books and challenge lists.

E. CANVASSING THE VOTE.

After the closing of the polls and before the ballot-boxes are opened, all the lists of voters shall be placed in separate sealed covers properly marked, and the stubs of all the ballots used, together with all unused ballots and the ballot check-list, shall also be enclosed in a sealed package properly designating the voting place, which package shall be sent to the proper office as required by law in the case of the ballots cast, and neither the said package, nor the said lists of voters shall thereafter be opened except by the return judges, or in case of a contest, or upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. (Act 1893, Sec. 24, P. L. 431.)

The election officers only shall remain in the voting-room within the guard-rail, and shall there at once proceed to count the votes. Such counting shall not be adjourned or postponed until it shall have been fully completed. The officers in charge of the voting check-list shall, in the presence of the other officers and watchers, count in a distinct and audible voice the names checked on the said list, and announce the whole number thereof; and the list of voters, the stubs of ballots used, and all unused ballots, shall then be sealed up, as required by section 213. The ballot-box shall then be opened by the inspectors, the ballots taken therefrom, and audibly counted, one by one, by them, and when the count is completed, the whole number of ballots cast shall be announced; and the counting of the number of votes received by each person voted for shall then proceed. The judge, in the presence of the inspectors, shall read aloud the name or names marked or inserted upon each ballot, together with the party name, or political appellation, under which each vote was cast, and the answers marked thereon to the questions submitted, if any; and the clerks shall each carefully enter each vote as read, and keep account of the same in tally papers prepared for the purpose. It shall be unlawful for either judge or inspectors while counting the ballots or the votes thereon, to have in his hand any pen, pencil, or stamp for marking ballots. (Act 1903, Sec. 5, P. L. 346.)

All ballots, after being removed from the box shall be kept within the unobstructed view of those present in the voting-room, so that they may be able to see all the marks on each ballot, but out of their reach, until they are placed in the ballot box as required by law. The total vote, as soon as counted, shall be publicly announced. (Act 1903, Sec. 5, P. L. 346.)

It shall be the duty of the police officers, constables and deputy constables, now required by law to be present at the polls, to remain in the voting-room, but outside of the guard-rail, while the votes are being counted, and preserve order therein. No person, except the said peace officers, when necessary for the preservation of the peace, or persons acting by their authority, shall enter into the space within the guard-rail, or converse with any election officer, in any way, after the polls are closed and until the counting of the votes has been completed. (Act 1903, Sec. 5, P. L. 346.)

As soon as the count shall be finished, the tickets, list of taxables, one of the lists of voters, one of the tally-papers and one of the certificates of the oath or affirmation taken and subscribed by the inspectors, judges and clerks, and one of the triplicate returns, shall all be carefully collected and deposited in one or more of the ballot-boxes; and such box or boxes, being closely bound round with tape, shall be sealed by the inspectors and judge of the election, and together with the remaining ballot-boxes, shall within one day thereafter be delivered by one of the inspectors to the nearest justice of the peace, who shall keep such boxes containing the tickets and other documents (said justice of the peace to receive the sum of three dollars per year, for all services rendered in the care of the ballot-box or boxes placed in his custody, said sum to be paid by the county treasurer upon an order drawn by the county commissioners) to answer the call of any persons or tribunal authorized to try the merits of such election. (Act 1903, Sec. 1, P. L. 217; Act 1909, Sec. 1, P. L. 425.)

If any justice of the peace shall refuse to receive any ballot-box delivered to him, as is hereinbefore provided, or having received the same, shall neglect the safe-keeping thereof, he shall, on conviction of any such refusal or neglect, be fined in any sum not less than one hundred, nor more than one thousand dollars. (Act 1839, Sec. 127, P. L. 547.)

Whenever a place has been or shall be provided by the authorities of any city, county, township or borough, for the safe-keeping of ballot-boxes, the judge and minority inspector shall, after the election shall be finished, and the ballot-box or boxes containing the tickets, list of voters and other papers, have been securely bound with tape and sealed, and the signatures of the judge and inspectors affixed thereto, forthwith deliver the same, together with the remaining boxes, to the mayor and recorder of such city, or in counties, townships or boroughs, to such person or persons as the court of common pleas of the proper county may designate, at the place provided, as aforesaid, who shall then deposit the said boxes and keep the same to answer the call of any court or tribunal authorized to try the merits of such election. Whenever the election officers of any election district shall require the election boxes of such district to hold any election which by law, they are or shall be required to hold, they shall keep the same securely in their possession without opening, until the morning of such election, and until they shall severally be sworn or affirmed not to disclose how any elector shall have voted, and after being so sworn or affirmed, they shall open the said boxes and burn and totally destroy all the ballots and other papers which they shall find therein, before proceeding to hold such election. Act 1909, Sec. 1, P. L. 425.)

The commissioners for the City of Philadelphia shall provide a fireproof room, or vault, in the public buildings of the said city, or some other suitable place, at which the judge of the elections, after the closing of the polls and the requirements of the law have been complied with, shall forthwith there deliver to the mayor and prothonotary of the city of Philadelphia the said ballot-boxes; the said room or vault shall not be accessible to any other person than the mayor and prothonotary aforesaid, who shall be present and receive, at the said room, or vault, the ballot-boxes from the judges as aforesaid. The mayor and prothonotary aforesaid shall not take or open, nor permit to be taken, or opened, any ballot-box deposited as aforesaid, for the space of one year after the same has been therein deposited, except when they shall be called upon by some court or other tribunal authorized to try the merits of such election; and after such trial or investigation it shall be the duty of the mayor and prothonotary aforesaid to have said box or boxes returned and deposited as aforesaid. (Act 1861, Sec. 11, P. L. 577.)

The election officers shall make a full return of the votes cast in triplicate, with a return sheet in addition, in all of which the votes cast for each candidate by each political party or body of which such candidate is the nominee, as the same shall appear upon the ballots cast, shall be given after his or her name, first in words and again in figures, and shall be signed by all of said officers and certified by overseers, if any, or if not so certified, the overseers and any officer refusing to sign or certify, or either of them, shall write upon each of the returns his or their reasons for not signing or certifying them. The vote, as soon as counted, shall also be publicly and fully declared from the window to the citizens present, and a brief statement showing the votes received by each candidate shall be made and signed by the election officers as soon as the vote is counted, and the same shall be immediately posted up on the door of the election house for information of the public. The triplicate returns shall be enclosed in envelopes and be sealed in presence of the officers, and one envelope, with the unsealed return-sheet, given to the judge, which envelope shall contain also one list of voters, tally-paper and oaths of officers, and another of said envelopes shall be given to the minority inspector, and the third of said triplicate returns shall be placed in the box and sealed up with the ballots as hereinbefore provided. All judges living within twelve miles of the prothonotary's office, or within twenty-four miles, if their residence be in a town, village or city upon the line of a railroad leading to the county seat, shall, before two o'clock post meridian of the day after the election, and all other judges shall, before twelve o'clock meridian of the second day after the election, deliver said return, together with the return-sheet, to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county, which said return-sheet shall be filed, and the day and hour of filing marked thereon, and shall be preserved by the prothontary for public inspection. At twelve o'clock on the said second day following any election, the prothonotary of the court of common pleas shall present the said returns to the said court. In counties where there is no resident president judge, the associate judges shall perform the duties imposed upon the court of common pleas which shall convene for said purpose; the returns presented by the prothonotary shall be opened by said court and computed by such of its officers and such sworn assistants as the court shall appoint, in the presence of the judge or judges of said court, and the returns certified and certificates of election issued under the seal of the court as hereinafter provided; and the vote as so computed and certified shall be made a matter of record in said court. The sessions of the said court shall be open to the public. And in case the returns of any election district shall be missing when the returns are presented, or in case of complaint of a qualified elector under oath, charging palpable fraud or mistake, and particularly specifying the alleged fraud or mistake, or where fraud or mistake is apparent on the return, the court shall examine the return, and if in the judgment of the court it shall be necessary to a just return, said court shall issue summary process against the election officers and overseers, if any, of the election district complained of, to bring them forthwith into the court, with all election papers in their possession; and if palpable mistake or fraud shall be discovered, it shall, upon such hearing as may be deemed necessary to enlighten the court, be corrected by the court, and so certified; but all allegations of palpable fraud or mistake shall be decided by the said court within three days after the day the returns are brought into court for computation; and the said inquiry shall be directed only to palpable fraud or mistake, and shall not be deemed a judicial adjudication to conclude any contest now or hereafter to be provided by law. Nothing in this act shall require the returns of township or borough officers to be made to the court as directed in this section; but all returns of the election of township and borough officers shall be made as hereinafter provided. In counties where there are three or more judges of said court learned in the law, at least two judges shall sit to compute and certify returns, unless unavoidably prevented. If any of the said judges shall himself be a candidate for any office at any election, he shall not sit with the court, or act in counting the returns of such election, and in such case the other judges, if any, shall act; and if in any county there shall be no judge qualified to hold the said court, under the provisions of this act, present and able to act, then, and in every such case, the register of wills, the sheriff and the county commissioners of the proper county shall be and constitute a board who, or a majority of whom, shall have and exercise all the powers and perform all the duties vested in, or required to be performed by the court of common pleas of such county, by and under the provisions of this section; but none of the said officers shall act as a member of such board when himself a candidate for any office at the election, the returns of which the said board is required to count under the provisions of this section. The returns required by this act to be presented by the prothonotary of the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia and Allegheny, respectively, shall be presented to such two or more of the judges of the several courts of common pleas of said counties, respectively as the judges of said courts, or a majority of them, may designate to perform the duty of receiving, computing and certifying said returns. (Act 1909, Sec. 1, P. L. 425; Act 1903, Sec. 5, P. L. 346.)

The officers and assistants appointed by the court shall, in the presence of the judges, make out returns in the manner hereinafter directed, which shall be signed by all the judges present, and attested by said clerks; and it shall not be lawful for said judges or clerks, in casting up the votes which shall appear to have been given, to omit or reject any part thereof, except where, in the opinion of said judges, such certificate is so defective as to prevent the same from being understood and computed in adding together the number of votes; in which case, it shall be the duty of said clerks to make out a true and exact copy of said paper or certificte, to be signed by said judges, and attested by said clerks and attached to, and transmitted with said return (where the same is directed to be transmitted) to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and the original paper shall be deposited in the prothontary's office, and by said officer copied and transmitted, with the return of said election, to the Secretary aforesaid.

I. Duplicate returns of all the votes given for every person and persons, who shall have been voted for, for any office or station, which the electors of the county are entitled to choose of themselves, unconnected with any other county or district.

II. Like returns of all the votes given in the county, for every person voted for as Governor.

III. Triplicate returns of all the votes given for any person voted for in the county, as electors of President and Vice-President of the United States. (Act 1839, Sec. 79, P. L. 537.)

Said returns shall in every case state the number of votes cast for each candidate by each political party of which such candidate is a nominee. (Act 1903, Sec. 5, P. L. 346.)

It shall also be the duty of the return judges, in every case, to transmit to each of the persons elected to serve in Congress, or in the Senate, or in the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, a certificate of his election, within five days after the day of making up such return. (Act 1839, Sec. 83, P. L. 539.)

When the returns shall be completed, the president of the board of judges aforesaid shall forthwith lodge one of each of such returns in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county; and in the case of an election of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, one other of the returns in the same office; and the other duplicates shall be transmitted as follows, viz:

I. In case of a Governor, the remaining duplicate shall be inclosed in an envelope, directed to the (President) of the Senate, and indorsed according to the fact, which having been sealed, shall be inclosed in another envelope, sealed and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; and the same shall forthwith be placed, by the said president in the nearest post office.

II. In case of electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, and of members of the House of Representatives of the United States, and of county officers to be commissioned by the Governor, the remaining duplicate shall be inclosed in an envelope, sealed and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and in like manner placed, by the said president in the nearest post office.

III. In case of the election of a Senator or Senators of this Commonwealth, the same shall be enclosed in an envelope, sealed and directed "To the Senate of Pennsylvania," and in case of the election of a member or members of the House of Representatives of this Commonwealth, the same shall, in like manner, be enclosed in an envelope, sealed and directed "To the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania," and each of said returns shall be enclosed in an envelope and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, and in like manner placed, by said president, in the nearest post office. (Act 1839, Sec. 80, P. L. 537.)

In case of election of county commissioners and county auditors, one copy of the return of election shall be enclosed in an envelope sealed and directed "To the Commissioners" of the proper county. (Act 1840, Sec. 8, P. L. 686.)

When two or more counties, or parts of two or more counties, are connected for the election of any officer, the courts of such counties, or parts of counties, comprising the district, shall each appoint a return judge, resident within such district, to meet within seven days after the day of election of such officer, at such place as is required by law, or if no place of meeting is designated by law, at such place within such district where the returns of the election of such officer shall, by law, be directed to be filed, to compute and certify the vote of such district, and it shall be the duty of the return judges, in such case, to transmit to the person elected, one of the triplicate returns as such officer's certificate of his election, within five days after the day of making up such return. All officers provided for by this section shall be compensated as like officers are paid by existing laws. (Act 1909, Sec. 1, P. L. 425; Act 1903, Sec. 5, P. L. 346.)

The judges of the several counties having met as aforesaid, shall cast up the several county returns, and make triplicate returns of all the votes given for such office, in said district, and of the name of the person or persons elected, and one of said returns for each office shall be deposited in the office of the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county in which they shall meet, and another shall be, by said judges, deposited in the nearest post office, sealed and directed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in the manner directed in Section 224, and the third shall be transmitted to the person elected as his certificate of election (Act 1839, Sec. 82, P. L. 538; Act 1909, Sec. 1 P. L. 425.)

All returns of the election of township and borough officers shall be enclosed in a sealed cover, directed to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the proper county and shall by some one of the election officers be delivered into his office within three days of such elections and filed therein. (Act 1909, Sec. 1, P. L. 425.)

The judge, inspectors and clerks of each election district of any borough, ward or township in the counties of this Commonwealth, which shall have been divided by the court into separate election districts, shall make out a complete return of all the votes given at any borough, ward or township election, designating the number of votes each person received: and the judge and inspectors shall appoint one of their number for return judge, to meet the other return judge or judges of the said borough, ward or township in said county, at the oldest election place, on the third day after any borough, ward or township election, and then add together the number of votes given for each person voted for, and make out the returns, as the nature of the election may require, complying in all respects with the provisions of existing election laws; and, after the performance of said duties appoint one of their number, by consent or lot to deliver the full returns to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the said county. (Act 1860, Sec. 1 P. L. 609; Act 1909, Sec. 1, P. L. 425.)

As soon as the election for inspectors and judges of election shall be finished, the inspectors and judges of such election shall make out a certificate of election, for each person chosen as an inspector, judge or township officer, which certificate shall be delivered to the person so chosen, or left at his usual place of abode by the constable of the proper ward, township, district or borough within five days after such election. (Act 1840, Sec. 1, P. L. 683.)

Every judge of election shall be allowed six cents per mile for each mile necessarily traveled in delivering the return of the township election of his proper township, to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas; said mileage to be computed circular, and paid out of the county treasury on orders drawn by the commissioners in the usual manner: Provided, That no compensation shall be paid where the return is not delivered within the time prescribed by law: Anr provided further, That return judges shall be allowed daily pay at the rate of two dollars per day for making

Every return judge shall be allowed out of the treasury of his proper county the sum of ten cents for every mile he shall necessarily have traveled in going to the place appointed by law for the meeting of return judges, and in returning thence to his own house (Act 1839, Sec. 93, P. L. 540.)

Whenever the returns of an election for Governor shall not be received from any county by the Secretary of the Commonwealth before the election of Governor shall be published, every such return so delayed shall be considered as void, unless the election be contested, in which case such returns shall be allowed to be of the same validity, and liable to the same exceptions, as other returns received in due time. (Act 1839, Sec. 91, P. L. 540.)

The court shall thereupon direct the officer or officers with whom such account has been filed to certify the same to the court for audit, and may, in its discretion, require security to be entered for costs. The court may, in its discretion, appoint an auditor to audit said account; but the fees of such auditor shall not exceed the sum of ten dollars a day for each day actually engaged. The court or auditor shall fix a date, as early as may be convenient, for the audit; at which time the person by whom such account has been filed shall be required to be present in person, to vouch his account, and answer, on oath or affirmation, all such relevant questions concerning the same as may be put to him by the petitioners or their counsel. The auditor shall issue subpœnas to all parties whom the petition or the accountant may require to give evidence concerning such account, and he shall determine, subject to exception, all questions as to the admissibility of evidence, and shall file a copy of the evidence with his report. If, upon the audit, the court shall decide that the account was false in any substantial manner, or that any illegal election expenses were incurred, the costs of said audit shall be paid by the acountant; but otherwise, by the petitioners. (Act 1906, Sec. 9, P. L. 81.)

The decision of the court upon the audit shall be subject to appeal; but if the court shall decide that any candidate who has been elected has incurred any illegal election expenses, or has consented to the incurring of any illegal election expenses by any person or committee, the court shall certify its decision to the Attorney General, who shall thereupon cause a writ of quo warranto to be issued; and if, upon proceedings under such writ of quo warranto, it shall be decided that the candidate in question has incurred any illegal election expenses, or has consented to the incurring of any illegal election expenses by any person or committee, his election shall be declared void and his office vacant: Provided, that in the case of candiates elected to the office of Senator or Representative in the General Assembly, the decision of the court shall be certified to the President of the Senate or to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, as the case may be: And provided further, that in the case of any candidate elected to the office of member of the House of Representatives of the United States, the decision of the court shall be certified to the Governor of this Commonwealth, who shall transmit the same to the Speaker of the said House of Representatives. (Act 1906, Sec. 10, P. L. 81.)

If the court shall decide, upon the audit, that any person, whether a candidate or not, has incurred illegal election expenses, or has otherwise violated any of the provisions of this act, it shall certify its decision to the district attorney of the county in which such person may reside, and it shall thereupon be the duty of such district attorney to institute criminal proceedings against such person. (Act 1906, Sec. 11, P. L. 82.)

No person shall be excused from answering any question, in any proceedings under this act, on the ground that such answer would tend to incriminate him; but no such answer shall be used as evidence against such person in any criminal action or prosecution whatever, except in an action for perjury in giving such testimony. (Act 1906, Sec. 12, P. L. 82.)

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, at the expense of the Commonwealth, furnish to the county commissioners blanks, in the form approved by the Secretary and Attorney General, suitable for the statements hereinbefore required. On the receipt of the list of candidates for public offices, before a caucus or primary, or upon the filing of a nomination, before municipal election, the county commissioners shall transmit to the candidate or candidates put in nomination, or at said primaries, and to the treasurers of political committees, the blanks above described. Upon the filing of a nomination for a State or National election, the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall transmit to the candidate or candidates put in nomination, and to the treasurer of the political committees, the blanks above described. To any person required to file a statement, such blank shall be furnished upon application therefor. (Act 1906, Sec. 13, P. L. 82.)

Any person who shall incur any illegal election expenses, or otherwise violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars or more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than one month or more than two years, either or both, at the discretion of the court. (Act 1906, Sec. 14, P. L. 82.)

ELECTION CONTESTS.

The several classes of election which may be contested in this Commonwealth are hereby distinguished and designated as follows, to-wit:

I. The Governor and Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth.

II. Electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, and all officers of this Commonwealth (except Governor and Lieutenant Governor), who now are or hereafter shall be required to be elected by the qualified voters of the State at large.

III. The judges of the several courts of record, to be learned in the law, other than judges of the Supreme Court.

IV. All other officers (excepting members of the General Assembly), whether elected by the qualified voters of counties, cities, townships, boroughs, wards, school districts or any other division of the State. (Act 1874, Sec. 1, P. L. 208.)

Contested elections of Governor and Lieutenant Governor shall be tried and determined by a committee to be selected from both houses of the General Assembly, and formed and regulated in the following manner: (Act 1874, Sec. 20, P. L. 213.)

Upon the petition in writing of at least one hundred qualified electors of the Commonwealth, accompanied by the affidavit, taken and subscribed by at least twenty of the petitioners, before some person having authority to administer oaths, that the facts set forth are true to the best of their knowledge and belief, and a certificate from the prothonotary of the county or counties where the petitioners reside, that they are all qualified electors, being presented to the President of the Senate, within ten days from the organization of the Legislature next succeeding the election complained of, he shall immediately give information thereof to both houses; such petition being read in each house, shall be laid on the table, without any question taken thereon, until the two houses shall proceed thereon, in manner following: (Act 1874, Sec. 21, P. L. 214.)

The Senate and House of Representatives shall, on a day and hour to be agreed on between them, which day shall be within five days of the reception of the petition, as aforesaid, convene in the hall of the House of Representatives, where the petition shall be read by the Clerk of the Senate; the names of the members of each house shall then be called over by the respective clerks, and a quorum of each house being present, a joint committee shall be formed as follows:

I. The names of all the Senators present, except the President pro tempore, shall be written on distinct pieces of paper, as nearly alike as may be, each of which shall be rolled up and put into a box by the clerk of the House of Representatives, and placed on the Speaker's table.

II. The Clerk of the Senate having shaken and intermixed the said papers, shall draw them out one by one, and put them alternately into three boxes, also placed on the Speaker's table.

III. When the whole number shall be thus distributed, the Clerk of the House of Representatives shall shake and intermix the papers in each box, and shall draw alternately from each box the papers so rolled up, and shall deliver them singly to the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

IV. The Speaker of the House of Representatives shall open the said papers singly, and read aloud the name on each, and then deliver the papers singly to the President of the Senate, who shall place them openly on the table.

V. A member of each house, to be designated by the respective presiding officers, shall take down in writing the name so called, and shall each of them repeat aloud the name so written, until the number of twelve names be drawn out and written down. (Act 1874, Sec. 22, P. L. 214.)

The like proceeding shall then be had for drawing twenty-five members of the House of Representatives for the purpose: Provided,

I. That the duties herein enjoined upon the Clerk of the House of Representatives shall be performed by the Clerk of the Senate.

II. That the duties enjoined upon the Clerk of the Senate shall be performed by the Clerk of the House of Representatives.

III. That the duties hereinbefore enjoined upon the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall be performed by the presiding officer of the Senate.

IV. That the duties hereinbefore enjoined upon the President of the Senate shall be performed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, whose name shall not be placed in the box. (Act 1874, Sec. 23, P. L. 214.)

If any objection be made by either of the parties to any member so drawn by lot, such member shall be discharged and another name be drawn to supply the place, and so on until the whole number of twelve Senators and twenty-five members of the House of Representatives shall be completed; and in all cases the members drawn in place of those objected to, shall be in like manner liable to be set aside, and others shall be drawn in their places; but if so many be set aside by reason of objections, as aforesaid, that there shall not remain more than the number aforesaid, then no further objection shall be admitted. (Act 1874, Sec. 24, P. L. 215.)

When the number aforesaid shall be completed, the Clerk of the House of Representatives shall draw out, one by one, the names of the remaining members of the Senate, and deliver them singly to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, who shall unfold and read them aloud; and the Clerk of the Senate shall, in like manner, draw out the names of the remaining members of the House of Representatives, and deliver them singly to the Speaker of the Senate, who shall unfold them and read them aloud; and if any unfairness or mistake shall then be discovered therein, the whole proceedings shall be set aside, and the same shall be renewed in manner and form hereinbefore directed; but after the committee is sworn, no objection for such cause shall be received. (Act 1874, Sec. 25, P. L. 215.)

When the proceedings aforesaid shall be concluded, a list of the twelve members of the Senate and a separate list of the twenty-five members of the House of Representatives, so drawn, shall be given to each of the parties, who shall immediately withdraw to some adjoining room, with a clerk or member appointed by the joint vote of members present, where they will proceed to strike off alternately the names upon such list, until the number shall be reduced to four members of the Senate and nine of the House of Representatives. (Act 1874, Sec. 26, P. L. 215.)

On the parties withdrawing to form such select committee, the members of both houses shall continue convened, and the members whose names shall have been drawn out of the boxes shall not depart the conference room without leave, until the time and place for the meeting of the select committee shall be fixed as hereinafter provided. (Act 1874, Sec. 27, P. L. 215.)

Within one hour from the time of withdrawing as aforesaid, the parties shall deliver to the presiding officer of the Senate the names of the said four members of the Senate and nine of the House of Representatives remaining on the list, who shall then respectively take an oath or affirmation, to be administered by the presiding officer of the Senate, to try the matter of the petition and to give a true judgment thereon, according to the evidence, unless the committee shall be dissolved. (Act 1874, Sec. 28, P. L. 215.)

The time and place for the meeting of the select committee so appointed, shall then be directed by the joint vote of the members of both houses, which time shall be within forty-eight hours of the appointment. (Act 1874, Sec. 29, P. L. 216.)

If any person appointed a member of such select committee shall, at the time of such appointment, swear or affirm that he cannot, without great inconvenience, serve on such committee, he shall be excused, and in such case another shall be substituted. But if any member of such committee shall neglect to attend upon the committee, his name shall be reported in writing to the house of which he shall be a member, and unless satisfactory reasons be given for his non-attendance, he shall be reprimanded by the presiding officer of the house of which he is a member. (Act 1874, Sec. 30, P. L. 216.)

The select committee so chosen shall be presided over by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, who shall decide questions regarding the admissibility of evidence, and he shall, upon request of the committee, pronounce his opinion upon other questions of law involved in the trial; but he shall not have a vote on the final determination of the case. Immediately after the appointment of the select committee aforesaid, the presiding officer of the Senate shall notify the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court thereof, and he shall immediately attend the meetings of the committee, as the presiding officer thereof. (Act 1874, Sec. 31, P. L. 216.)

The select committee shall sit from day to day, Sundays excepted, at such hours as shall not interfere with their attendance in the Legislature; but, unless nine of their number be present, the committee after waiting one hour, shall adjourn to the next day; and if the number of the committee shall unavoidably be reduced to less than nine members, and shall so continue for the space of three days, Sundays excepted, the committee shall be dissolved, and there shall be another chosen in manner aforesaid: Provied, That when the two houses shall stand adjourned for more than three days, the committee may adjourn to the same time. (Act 1874, Sec. 32, P. L. 216.)

The select committee shall have power to send for persons, papers and records, and to compel the attendance of and examine all witnesses who may come before them, upon oath or affirmation, which the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, or clerk of the committee, may administer in their presence, and to decide not only on the validity of such contested election, but also which of the candidates had the greatest number of legal votes. (Act 1874, Sec 33, P. L. 216.)

When it is proven to the satisfaction of said committee that any person, not a legally qualified voter, voted at any such contested election, it shall be lawful for said committee to compel said voter to disclose, under oath, for which of the respective candidates he voted; but when the committee examines the witness on oath as to the person or persons for whom he voted, and said witness, on such examination, discloses the names of the persons for whom he voted at such election, he shall not afterwards be presented for, having illegally voted at such election. (Act 1874, Sec. 34, P. L. 216.)

The doors of the room in which the select committee shall meet shall remain open during the examination of witnesses, but may be shut at any other time; all determinations required to be made by such committees shall be by a majority of the whole number appointed; and as soon as the committee shall have agreed upon the same, two reports thereof shall be made in writing, one of which shall be delivered to the presiding officer of the Senate, and the other to the Speaker of the House of Representatives; which reports shall be entered on the Journals of the respective houses, and shall be final and conclusive. (Act 1874, Sec. 35, P. L. 217.)

If the committee, or a majority thereof as aforesaid, shall report that either of the candidates had the greatest number of legal votes, and ought to be admitted to the office, such candidate shall thereupon be entitled to such office. (Act 1874, Sec. 36, P. L. 217.)

If the committee, or a majority thereof as aforesaid, shall report that such election or return is invalid, a new election shall take place on the day of the general election ensuing, agreeably to the Constitution, of which the presiding officer of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives shall immediately give notice, by their joint writ directed to the sheriffs of the respective counties; and the sheriffs of the respective counties shall give due notice thereof according to law. (Act 1874, Sec. 37, P. L. 217.)

Cases of the second class shall be tried and determined by the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County; and for the purpose of hearing and determining the complaint in the petition in such cases, the Court of Common Pleas of the Twelfth Judicial District shall notify to sit with it, on the hearing of such complaint, two president judges, learned in the law, residing nearest to the courthouse of the said judicial district; and the judges so notified shall appear and sit as part of the said court on the hearing, trial and determination of such petition. (Act 1874, Sec. 3, P. L. 209.)

After the hearing of the said case, the said judges shall without unnecessary delay, decide which of the candidates voted for received the greatest number of legal votes, and is entitled to the office; which decision shall be entered of record to the case in the said court, and a certified copy thereof shall, within five days from the rendering thereof, be delivered to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; whereupon the person who, by the decision of the court, shall appear to have received the largest number of votes, shall be entitled to the office, and be commissioned accordingly. (Act 1874, Sec. 4, P. L. 209.)

Contested elections of president or additional law judges of any of the judicial districts of this Commonwealth, shall be tried and determined before the court of common pleas of the county where the person returned as elected shall reside in manner following. (Act 1874, Sec. 5, P. L. 209.)

contested is returned as elected, if there be one higher, and if not, the one next lower, shall perform all the duties required of the three president judges, as prescribed in the foregoing section. (Act 1874, Sec. 7, P. L. 210.)

When the election of a judge of the Supreme Court, or a judge of any subordinate court of record, required to be learned in the law, shall be contested, if the trial and determination of such election contest shall involve the true construction of any provision of the Constitution, or if the decision shall depend on any question arising upon the Constitution, an appeal shall lie from the decision of the court or judges empowered to try such contested election to the Supreme Court. (Act 1878, Sec. 1, P. L. 204.)

Such appeal may be taken by any person whose right to the office was tried and determined, or by any person aggrieved by the decision, within thirty days after the decision of the judges shall have been entered of record to the case in the court of common pleas. The appeal shall be filed in the prothonotary's office of the proper district, but may be heard by the said Supreme Court in any district; and it shall be the duty of said court to hear and decide the same, without delay. (Act 1878, Sec. 2, P. L. 205.)

To this end it is hereby made the duty of the judges in the court of common pleas trying such election contest to, first, find separately an explicitly the facts deemed by them material to the decision, and also such other facts as any party to the contest may request them in writing to ascertain; and to, second, answer such points of law as may be submitted to them. (Act 1878, Sec 3, P. L. 205)

The said Supreme Court, having decided the constitutional question involved in such election contest, shall thereupon proceed to decide and declare which of the candidates voted for received the greatest number of legal votes and is entitled to the office, and shall cause their decision to be certified to the Secretary of the Commowealth; whereupon, the person who, by the decision of the said Supreme Court, shall appear to have received the largest number of legal votes, shall be entitled to the office and be commissioned accordingly. On the trial of contested elections of Senators and members of the House of Representatives, the petitioners complaining of the election, and the person returned as elected, shall be the parties thereto. (Act 1874, Sec. 12, P. L. 211.)

The court of common pleas to which a petition shall be presented, as aforesaid, contesting the right of a Senator or member of the House of Representatives to the seat for which he may have been returned as elected, shall have authority to compel the attendance of any officer of the election complained of, and of any person capable of testifying concerning the same; and also to compel the production of all books, papers, tally lists, tickets, ballot boxes and all other documents which may be required at such hearing, in like manner and to the same extent as in other cases litigated before such court; to appoint commissioners to take testimony, and to proceed without delay, postponing for the purpose, if necessary, all other business, to the hearing and determination of such case. (Act 1874, Sec. 13, P. L. 211.)

Cases of the fourth class shall be tried and determined by the court of quarter sessions of the peace of the county in which the election contest shall be held. (Act 1874, Sec. 16, P. L 212.)

The proper court or judge shall have power to compel the attendance of any election officer, or other person, as a witness, and may also compel the production of all books, papers, tally lists, returns of election, other documentary or record evidence, at discretion, for use on the trial, and may issue subpoenas and attachments, for these purposes, as in other cases of proceedings in the courts of this Commonwealth; and all such books, papers documents, ballots, boxes and records shall be returned to the proper custody. Certified copies of all election papers, assessments, registers of votes and records, duly authenticated by the person having custody thereof, shall be competent evidence, and prima facie proof of their contents; but the party against whom the same shall be produced shall have the right to compel the attendance of the person who certifies them, for cross-examination. Examiners, to take and report evidence, may be appointed; and reasonable notice of the time and place of taking the same shall be prescribed by the court, or judge, and served upon the opposite party. (Act 1874, Sec. 8, P. L. 210.)

Hereafer in all contested elections, except of Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, and all other officers of this Commonwealth who now are or hereafter shall be required to be elected by the qualified voters of the State at large, the time to be consumed in taking testimony in court or before an examiner or examiners appointed for that purpose shall not exceed ninety days in any one case, no matter whether such testimony be taken in court or before an examiner or examiners, or partly in court and partly before an examiner or examiners, and said testimony shall be taken in the following order, to wit: A period of time not exceeding forty days shall be allowed the contestant for this purpose; a succeeding period of time not exceeding forty days shall be allowed for said purpose to the person returned as elected; and the contestants may take testimony in rebuttal during ten days, immediately succeeding the time allowed the person returned as elected for taking testimony; and for any testimony taken after the limit of time herein fixed, no contest court shall have the power to charge any costs to any district, county, city, township, borough, ward, school district or municipality, nor shall they be under any liability for the payment of the same, but the said court may order the contestant, petitioners or person returned elected, to pay the costs, as in its discretion it is deemed just and proper. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 103.)

Provided, That no costs shall be paid out of the treasury of any district, county, city, township, borough, ward, school district or municipality in any such contest until the same has been finally determined; and no costs, accruing or chargeable in any case after the limit of time herein fixed, shall be paid by the proper district, county, city, township, borough, ward, school district, or municipality, nor shall they be under any liability for the payment of the same. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 103.)

Witnesses and officers shall be paid the same fees as are now or hereafter shall be fixed by law for similar services in the county in which the trial shall be held, but witnesses whose votes are shown to be illegal shall receive no witness fees or mileage. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 118.)

In contested elections of president or additional law judges, and of county, borough, township, municipal officers, or school directors, or school controllers, if the contestant or contestants fail to establish his or their right to the office to which he or they claimed to have been elected, the petitioners and each and every of them shall be jointly and severally liable for all the costs, and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are by law collectible, or payment thereof may be enforced by attachment. In case the contestant or contestants establish his or their right to the office in either of the above named cases, the costs shall be paid by the proper district, county, borough, township, municipality or school district. Whenever a petition to contest an election in any of said cases shall be presented to the court, it shall be the duty of said petitioners within ten days thereafter, to file a bond signed by at least five of the said petitioners in such sum as the said court, or any judge thereof during vacation, shall designate, with sureties to be approved by the said court or judge, conditioned for the payment of all costs which may accrue in said contested election proceeding, in case the said petitioners by decree of said court shall be adjudged liable to pay said costs, and if the said bonds shall not be filed, as herein provided, the said petition to contest the election shall be dismissed. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 118.)

In contested elections of electors of President and Vice-President, and State officers whose jurisdiction extends over the State, and Senators and members of the House of Representatives, if the court or judge shall decide that the complaint is without probable cause, the petitioners and every of them shall be jointly and severally liable for all the costs, and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are by law collectible, or payment thereof may be enforced by attachment. In contested elections of electors of President and Vice-President, and State officers whose jurisdiction extends over the State, and Senators and members of the House of Representatives, as aforesaid, in which the court or judge shall not decide that the complaint is without probable cause, the Commonwealth shall be liable for all costs, and the same shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated, on bills certified to be correct by the proper court or judge, upon examination and approval of the Auditor General. (Act 1899, Sec. 1, P. L. 118.)

Whenever, in contested elections of president or additional law judges, and of county, borough, township or municipal officers, if any court or judge shall have heretofore decided, or shall hereafter decide, that the complaint was not, or is not, without probable cause, the said court or judge is hereby authorized, and shall apportion all the costs among the proper districts, counties, cities, townships, boroughs, wards, school districts or municipalities of the whole district in which contest is had, in such way as said court or judge shall think just; and to compel by order the payment of such amounts so apportioned to each by the properly constituted authorities of each other of the proper districts, counties, cities, townships, boroughs, wards, school districts or municipalities, as the payment of debts by the same can now be enforced. (Act 1876, Sec. 1, P. L. 148.)

The proper court or judge shall have power to appoint phonographic reporters, if necessary, to take the testimony, and may order printing of such matters as may be necessary during the trial; and all bills for such reports and printing, certified to be reasonable and correct by the court or judge, shall be a part of the costs, and collectible as other costs in the case: Provided, that all printing required in cases of the second and third classes, shall be done by the State Printer, at contract prices; and in all other cases, the prices to be paid for such reporting and printing shall be fixed in the order providing therefor, and no more than the amount thus fixed shall be paid in any case. (Act 1874, Sec. 10, P. L. 211.)

No judge shall sit on the trial of a case in which he shall be a party. In any case where, by reason of incompetency or any disability to act, there shall be no law judge of the district in which any contest shall arise present, and able as well as qualified to act, the judge, learned in the law, residing nearest the court house of the county in which, by the provisions of this act, the trial in any such case is required to be had, except in cases otherwise provided in this act, shall preside on the trial, and shall have and exercise all the powers and authority, and discharge all the duties, granted to or imposed upon the regular judges of the said courts, in cases wherein they are qualified and required to act by the provisions of this law. Any law judge, who is hereby authorized to preside in any such case, and any president or other judge, learned in the law, of the proper court, shall have full power to hold any of the said courts, by this act required to try any such contested election case, without the assistance of the associate justices, or either of them, of such courts, not learned in the law. And all of the said courts and judges, hereby required to try any contested election case, shall have plenary power to make, issue and enforce all necessary orders, rules, process and decrees, for a full and proper understanding and final determination and enforcement of the decision of every such case, according to the course of practice in similar cases, under the laws of this Commonwealth, or which may be necessary and proper to carry out the provisions of this act. (Act 1874, Sec. 17, P. L. 212.)

The commencement of procedings, in every case, shall be by petition, which shall be made and filed, as herein required, within thirty days after the day of election; the petition shall concisely set forth the cause of complaint, showing wherein it is claimed the election is undue or illegal, and after filing, shall not be amended, unless such amendment shall be allowed by the proper court or judge, after notice to the other party and hearing; and if allowed, reasonable time shall be given to answer. In cases of the second class, the petition shall be signed by at least one hundred qualified electors who voted at the election contested; in cases of the third class, by at least fifty such electors; and in cases of the fourth class, by at least twenty-five; and shall be verified by at least five of the petitioners, by affidavit taken and subscribed before some person authorized by the laws of this Commonwealth to administer oaths, setting forth that they verily believe the facts stated therein are true, that according to the best of their knowledge and belief, the election was undue or illegal, and the return thereof not correct, and that the petition to contest the same is made in good faith. The petition shall be presented to the court or law judge having jurisdiction, except where otherwise provided in this act; and, if it shall be adjudged sufficient it shall be filed of record in the proper court, and thereupon a time shall be fixed for hearing. Notice of the filing of the petition, with a copy thereof, shall be served upon the person whose right of office shall be contested, together with a rule to answer at the time fixed for hearing; which notice, copy and rule shall be served such length of time before the day fixed for hearing, as the said court or judge shall require, not exceeding forty days, in cases of the second and third classes, and in all other cases, not exceeding thirty days. (Act 1874, Sec. 18, P. L. 213.)

In trials of contested elections, and in all proceedings for the investigation of elections, no person shall be permitted to withhold his testimony upon the ground that he may incriminate himself, or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony. (Act 1874, Sec. 19, P. L. 213.)

Whenever it shall appear by the returns of election laid before the Governor, by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, as now required by law, that any person has been duly elected to the office of prothonotary, clerk of the courts, recorder of deeds or register of wills, judge, or any other officer receiving a commission from the Governor, in any of the several counties of this Commonwealth, it shall be the duty of the Governor to issue a commission to such person, notwithstanding that the election of such person to any or either of said offices may be contested, in the manner now provided by law: Provided, that whenever it shall appear by the decision of the proper tribunal having jurisdiction of such contested election, that the person to whom said commission shall have issued, has not been legally elected to the office for which he has been commissioned, then a commission shall issue to the person who shall appear legally elected to said office; the issuing of which commission shall nullify and make void the commission already issued, and all power and authority under said commission first issued, shall thereupon cease and determine: Provided further, that this act shall not in any manner affect any contest now pending. (Act 1889, Sec. 1, P. L. 60.)

Whenever in any contested election the tribunal trying the case shall decide that the ballots used in one or more election districts were, by reason of the omission, addition, misplacing, misspelling or misstatement of one or more titles of offices, or names of candidates, or parties or policies represented by them, so defective as to the office in contest as to be calculated to mislead the voters in regard to any of the candidates nominated for said office, and that the defective condition of the said ballots may have affected the result of the entire election for said office, the said tribunal shall declare the election to be invalid as regards the said office, and shall report their decision to the proper officer or officers who are now by law authorized to fill vacancies occurring in such office, who, upon receipt of such notice, shall without delay proceed to appoint a suitable person or persons to fill the vacancies thus created, and the person or persons so appointed, shall continue in office until the next election succeeding his appointment at which such office is now by law required to be filled. (Act 1897, Sec. 1, P. L. 23.)

Whenever the election of any officer shall hereafter be contested before the court of common pleas of the city and county of Philadelphia, the court shall upon the application of any citizen, appoint a receiver, to take, receive and hold, during said contested election, and until the final determination thereof, all the fees, perquisites and emoluments of the office so contested; and the said court shall require security to be entered by him, in such sums as they shall deem proper, conditioned for the faithful performance of all orders and decress of said court; and they may, at any time, order additional security to be entered, or remove said receiver, and from time to time appoint another receiver, as may be necessary. (Act 1867, Sec. 1, P. L. 1123.)

Upon the final determination of said contested election, or sooner, if thereto required by said court, the receiver or receivers so appointed, shall file his or their accounts, and the same may be examined and settled by said court, or be referred to an auditor or master, for that purpose; and the amount ascertained to be in the hands of said receiver or receivers, shall, after deducting such charges as may be allowed by said court, be paid over to the person or persons, and in the proportion said court shall decree. Provided, that any (person) aggrieved by the final decree upon said receiver's account may appeal therefrom, as in other equity proceedings. (Act 1867, Sec. 2, P. L. 1123.)

The said court shall, for the purpose of carrying this act into execution, have all the power of a court of equity, in cases where receivers are appointed by said courts, and may, in their discretion, order investments to be made of any funds in the hands of said receiver or receivers in the debt of the United States, of this State, or of the City of Philadelphia. (Act 1867, Sec. 3, P. L. 1123.)

The said court of common pleas for the city and county of Philadelphia shall have power, whenever necessary for the determination of the same, to issue commissions to places outside of the State, and to appoint an examiner or examiners to take testimony within the State, and to make all needful rules relative to the examination of witnesses, the closing of the testimony and other matters, as in equity proceedings; and the examiner and examiners so appointed, shall have power to issue subpœnas, and to compel the attendance of witnesses by attachments, and upon failure of any witness to testify as required by said examiner or examiners, the court may attach for contempt, as in other cases. (Act 1867, Sec. 4, P. L. 1123.)

The said court of common pleas of the city and county of Philadelphia may, upon final decree, enter a judgment for costs, either in whole or part, against the county, the petitioners or the respondent; or they may apportion the said costs, in equal or unequal parts, between the county, the petitioners and the responent, as to them may seem just. (Act 1867, Sec. 5, P. L. 1123.)

The final decrees of the said court, upon contested elections, may be enforced by injunction, attachment and sequestration; and their judgments as to costs may be enforced, if against the county, by mandamus execution, and if against parties, by execution and attachment. (Act 1867, Sec. 6, P. L. 1123.)

REPORT OF COMMISSION TO SELECT A SITE AND ERECT A STATE INSTITUTION FOR FEEBLE MINDED AND EPILEPTIC IN EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA.

The Commission appointed and designated under the Act of Assembly, approved the 15th day of May, A. D. 1903, to select a site and erect a State Institution for the Feeble Minded and Epileptic in Eastern Pennsylvania, makes the following report:

This Commission, as its title implies, was created by the Act of May 15, 1903, Pamphlet Laws, p. 446, for the purpose of selecting a site and erecting a State institution for the care and treatment of the feeble minded and epileptic in the eastern counties of Pennsylvania.

The first duty of the Commission after its organization was to procure an available site. In order to do this an advertisement was inserted in various prominent newspapers in the district in which the institution was to be established, asking that available tracts of land be submitted for consideration. In response to this advertisement a number of properties were offered, situate in various localities in Eastern Pennsylvania. The Commission, after visiting and considering all the sites submitted, finally selected a tract at Spring City, East Vincent Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania. Options were obtained on the several farms comprised in this tract of about two hundred and eighty-eight acres.

After the options were obtained and before taking title the site was inspected by the then Governor of Pennsylvania (the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker). He approved in writing of the action of the Commission in selecting a site, as well as the price paid for the same.

The site chosen is most accessible by railroad facilities to the counties in Eastern Pennsylvania, and has, in addition to the railroad accommodations, wharfage facilities on the canal of the Schuylkill Valley Navigation Company. A portion of the tract on which the buildings are erected commands a view of many miles over the Schuylkill Valley. The land is good and arable and well adapted to the preservation of health and the maintenance of the inmates of the institution. It has an adequate supply of good water and natural facilities for drainage from the institution buildings. The entire tract can be cultivated, portions of it being well adapted to the raising of stock, while the bottom lands along the Schuylkill River and Canal are well adapted for the raising of small fruits, vegetables, etc.

The cost of the land was thirty-four thousand dollars, being an average cost of one hundred and eighteen dollars per acre. Title to the tract was taken in the name of the Commonwealth on the 5th day of August, A. D. 1904, and was properly insured by the Land Title and Trust Company of Philadelphia. The deeds and title insurance policies were delivered to the Auditor General of Pennsylvania and receipted for by him.

In November, of 1908, a small tract of eleven acres with the house and barn, was purchased by the Commission for the price of seventeen hundred dollars. As soon as practicable after its purchase title was taken to this tract in the name of the Commonwealth, the title being properly insured by the Land Title and Trust Company of Philadelphia. This tract is contiguous to the other land already purchased by the Commission. The site at present comprises three hundred and four acres of land, according to recent surveys.

There were several good, substantial farm houses, with necessary outbuildings, on the tract when purchased by the Commission, and these the Commission rented on short term leases. This served two purposes: First, it enabled the Commission to insure the buildings against loss by fire, as vacant farm properties are not insurable. Secondly, the Commission received a small revenue from the rents and the buildings were kept in better repair than if allowed to remain idle. The Commission each year sold the standing hay and the fruit.

Having secured a site the Commission began to consider plans for the new institution. Philip H. Johnson, of Philadelphia, was selected to fill the position of architect. In order to qualify themselves to pass judgment upon the plans submitted by the architect, and in order to obtain the necessary information as to the character of the new structures, a personal investigation was made in connection with the architect of two of the most modern nearby institutions devoted to the care of the feeble minded and epileptic. The Ohio State Institution was examined, as was also the up-to-date and thoroughly modern institution at Polk, in Western Pennsylvania. A close inquiry was made into the plans, construction and management of these several asylums, and the knowledge acquired was of much service to the members of the Commission when called upon to examine the plans prepared by the architect.

A general plan of the institution, together with detailed plans of several of the buildings, was submitted by the architect for the consideration of the Commission. In order that the Commission should get the very best advice obtainable, it sent one of its members, a physician, who had made a study of institution work, with a complete copy of the plans and specifications, which he submitted to the following well known authorities on all matters pertaining to the building, managing and maintaining of asylums for feeble minded, epileptic and idiotic persons:

Former Superintendent Brockway of the Elmira Reformatory, of New York. Mr. Brockway was at that time one of the foremost authorities in the United States in all matters pertaining to institutions of the character of the Spring City Institution. Mr. Brockway carefully examined the plans and pronounced them to be better fitted for the purposes of an institution of this character than any plans he had ever seen.

The plans were then submitted to Franklin H. Briggs, Superintendent of the State Industrial School, of New York. They were also approved by Dr. Briggs.

They were also submitted to Dr. Anna Warnecke, resident physician of the New York Custodial Asylum, at Newark, New York. She also fully approved of them, as did likewise C. W. Winspear, superintendent of this institution.

The plans were also approved by Joseph F. Scott, Superintendent of the New York State Reformatory, at Elmira, New York, and J. J. MacDonnell, assistant superintendent of the same place.

They were likewise approved by Dr. Bernstein, Superintendent of the State Institution for Feeble Minded, at Rome, New York. This institution is similar in its character and purposes to the institution at Spring City.

Dr. Everett Flood, Superintendent of the Massachusetts State Institution for Epileptics, at Palmer, Massachusetts, also examined the plans and gave his unqualified approval of them.

The plans were also approved by Dr. J. M. Murdock, Superintendent of the Western Pennsylvania State Institution for Feeble Minded and Epileptic, at Polk, and also by Dr. W. P. Spratling, Superintendent of the Craig Colony, of New York, which is the largest institution for feeble minded and epileptic in the world.

All these gentlemen made careful examinations of the plans and offered many suggestions as to improvements, which in every instance where they were considered proper and beneficial were adopted by the Commission.

The Commission has written endorsements of the plans of the Spring City institution from all of the experts above mentioned.

The plans and specifications were also submitted to the then Governor of Pennsylvania, the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, and were approved by him. Especially were the specifications subjected to close scrutiny by the Governor, and some suggestions were made by him as to changes. These suggestions were acted upon by the Commission and the specifications changed to meet the Governor's views.

The specifications were also submitted to Hampton L. Carson, Esq., Attorney General for the Commonwealth. Mr. Carson, after a careful examination of the specifications, approved of them.

The plans when thus prepared by the Commission were approved in writing by the State Board of Public Charities, as required by the Act of May 15, 1903, after which the plans were finally adopted by the commissioners.

The Act of May 15, 1903, appropriated the sum of fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of purchasing a site and preparing the plans.

The Act approved May 11, 1905, Pamphlet Laws, p. 425, appropriated the sum of five hundred thousand dollars to the Commission for the purpose of its appointment. With this sum the Commission began the erection of the buildings. Recognizing the urgent need of an institution of this kind in Eastern Pennsylvania the Commission decided to erect custodial and dormitory buildings; first, so that a working institution could be erected and turned over for the use of the Commonwealth at the earliest possible moment.

It was also thought advisable for the same reasons to invite bids for several completed buildings rather than to commence the construction of all the buildings shown upon the plans. Accordingly advertisements were inserted in twenty prominent newspapers, printed in the State of Pennsylvania, inviting proposals for the erection and completion of buildings, known as School Building Q, Industrial Building R, Dormitory Building T, Dining-room Building N, Kitchen Building G and Teachers' Building P, as shown on the plans of the institution. The proposals were opened on the day named in the advertisement in the reception room of the Governor's office, at Harrisburg, in the presence of the Governor and the public. Proposals were submitted by Payne & Company, Doyle & Doak, John R. Wiggins & Company, McCall & Company and Mitchell Bros., all of Philadelphia. John R. Wiggins & Company were found to be the lowest bidders, they agreeing to finish the work for the sum of $412,400, and the contract was accordingly awarded to them.

Subsequently a formal agreement was entered into by the builder and the Commission, and security was given by the builder for the faithful performance of the work in accordance with the plans and specifications.

Ground was broken on the 2d day of June, A. D. 1906, and the work was steadily pushed from that day until the final completion of the building on the 11th day of October, A. D. 1907.

In view of the urgent need of this institution the Commission thought it best to turn over the buildings completed, and therefore immediately requested the then Governor of Pennsylvania, the Hon. Edwin S. Stuart, to appoint a Board of Trustees, as provided for by the provisions of the Act of May 15, 1903.

The Board of Trustees, consisting of nine gentlemen, were appointed by the Governor, and this Commission upon completion of the buildings in October of 1907 offered to turn them over to this Board of Trustees.

The Commission were advised that the buildings then erected, together with the old buildings when changed and repaired, would accommodate at least five hundred inmates.

The buildings completed, to wit: Buildings G, N, P, Q, R and T were turned over to the Board of Trustees appointed by the Governor on the 22d day of May, A. D. 1908, after having been fully and carefully examined by experts employed by the Board of Trustees and found to be in perfect condition.

In this connection it is well to note that this Commission has erected and turned over an institution to the State for use and occupancy in the shortest possible time that the same could have been done under present conditions.

The Act of 1903 appropriated the sum of fifty thousand dollars for the purpose of purchasing a site and preparing the plans.

The Act of 1905 appropriated the sum of five hundred thousand dollars towards the erection of the buildings.

It was not until 1907 that an act appropriating money to maintain and furnish the institution was passed, and by the time this money was available, to wit: In the fall of 1907, the buildings were ready for occupancy and were offered to the Board of Trustees, who did not, however, accept the same until the 22d day of May, A. D. 1908.

The Act of 1907 appropriated the sum of three hundred thousand dollars to the Commission for the purposes of their appointment. Advertisements were again inserted in number of prominent newspapers throughout Pennsylvania, asking for proposals for the erection and completion of Buildings U, V and F on the plans of the institution, with connecting corridors. Buildings U and V are custodial buildings, having facilities for housing as well as educating the inmates. Each building will accommodate one hundred inmates.

Building F is a dining-room building, which will accommodate five hundred inmates, and in connection with the dining-room of similar dimensions, previously constructed, gives dining-room facilities for one thousand inmates, which will be sufficient for the completed institution.

Proposals were submitted by a number of contractors and were opened in the presence of the public. John R. Wiggins & Company, of Philadelphia, were found to be the lowest bidders, they agreeing to do the work for two hundred and fifty-one thousand five hundred and four dollars. Work was steadily pushed on these buildings until they were finally completed in December of 1908, and were turned over in perfect condition and receipted for by the Board of Trustees on the 2d day of April, A. D. 1909.

The Act of May 15, 1909, appropriated the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to this Commission for the purpose of its appointment. With this sum the Commission is constructing Building K and connecting corridors. The bids submitted by several contractors, after proper advertisement had been inserted in prominent newspapers of Pennsylvania, were opened in the presence of the public and the contract was awarded to John R. Wiggins & Company, they being the lowest bidders. This contract was awarded on the 15th day of November, A. D. 1909, John R. Wiggins & Company agreeing to construct Building K for the sum of $123,985.

Building K is a custodial building, corresponding in general appearance and dimensions with the other custodial buildings of the group. The building is now under roof and should be completed and ready for occupancy by March 1, 1911.

The Commission did not undertake to furnish the institution, as it considered it the duty of the trustees to do so. The Act of 1907 appropriated a sufficient sum for the trustees to furnish the building, and this work they accomplished.

In addition to the contracts above mentioned, a number of contracts were let by the Commission for the erecting of connecting corridors, laying of water pipes, the erection and completion of the sewerage disposal plant, the purchase of laundry machinery, gas and electric fixtures and also contracts for the necessary grading about the site.

On April 11, 1907, a contract was awarded to John R. Wiggins & Company for the construction and completion of corridors connecting Buildings N and T. The cost of these corridors was twenty-two thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars.

On October 15, 1908, a contract was let to John R. Wiggins & Company for the construction and completion of Building E with connecting carridors. Building E is a small one-story structure, which is being used for a staff dining-room, and is large enough to accommodate the entire staff when the institution shall have been completed.

Both of these contracts were let to John R. Wiggins & Company after proper advertisement in each case, they being the lowest bidders.

On July 5, 1907, a contract was let to McCormack & Company, of Philadelphia, for laying pipes, connecting the institution buildings with the mains of the Home Water Company, of Royersford. This contract was awarded after inviting proposals from several other contractors. The amount of the contract was nineteen hundred and thirteen dollars and forty cents.

The Commission also awarded contracts for grading to McCormack & Company. These contracts, as well as contracts for the installation of laundry fixtures and the installation of gas and electric fixtures, were all awarded to the lowest bidders.

On April 5, 1907, a contract was awarded to McCormack & Company, of Philadelphia, for the erection and completion of a sewerage disposal plant for the institution.

This contract was awarded after due advertisement to McCormack & Company, they being the lowest bidders. The amount of the contract was twenty-seven thousand six hundred and fifty-six dollars. The sewerage disposal plant was completed within the prescribed time and is now in use. It was carefully examined by the State Board of Health and was approved in writing in accordance with the law by Samuel P. Dixon, Commissioner of Health for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Commission at first proposed to build a reservoir and pumping station and to supply the institution with water from artesian wells to be dug on the premises.

Before proceeding to do this work, however, the Commission entered into negotiation with the Home Water Company, of Royersford, with the result that an ample supply of good and pure water was obtained for the institution at a lower cost than the Commission could supply the institution by erecting a pumping station and building a reservoir.

The Home Water Company, of Royersford, has agreed to supply the institution with water at six cents for each thousand gallons under fifty thousand gallons used daily, and five cents per thousand for each thousand gallons used in excess of fifty thousand gallons used daily.

The buildings completed, or nearly completed, in this institution comprise about one-half of the buildings shown on the general plan of the institution at Spring City, approved by the State Board of Public Charities. These buildings are all of the best design for the use of such an institution. They are without expensive architectural ornaments and have no large or costly administrative accommodations. They are all of fire-proof construction and are thoroughly modern in every respect.

The Act of 1903 creating the Commission provided that the Commission should erect an institution to accommodate not less than five hundred inmates or patients. This Commission had completed buildings in October of 1907, which in their best judgment would accommodate at least five hundred inmates. These buildings were offered to the Board of Trustees appointed by the Governor and were finally accepted by them on the 23d day of May, A. D. 1908.

Every contract awarded by the Commission was awarded only after proper advertisement had been made inviting proposals, and in every respect was a contract awarded to the lowest bidder, and the bids were invariably opened in the presence of other bidders and in the presence of the public.

This partially completed institution was turned over to the Board of Trustees, in view of the urgent need of such accommodations as the buildings when completed would afford. With the old buildings remodeled and with the new buildings completed and turned over, and which will be completed and turned over to the trustees before the first day of June, 1911, this Commission believes that the State of Pennsylvania will have at Spring City an institution which will house not less than seven hundred and fifty inmates.

This opinion, as to the number of people being accommodated, is based upon the air and floor space which each of the buildings completed or in the course of completion afford. In the last analysis the question of the number of inmates to be cared for in any institution is a matter of individual judgment with the superintendent and Board of Managers of the institution. The conducting of an asylum of any kind is simply a question of good and profitable housekeeping. One superintendent will care for one hundred patients in a given space, while another will care for one hundred and fifty in the same space, each obtaining equally good results. As the superintendent and Board of Managers of any institution are the responsible persons and those to whom the State looks for the proper care of the unfortunates under their charge, as well as the economical expenditure of money appropriated for that purpose, they should be permitted to conduct the institution in their charge in their own way and in a manner which appears best to them.

The buildings heretofore completed and turned over to the Board of Trustees were not adapted for the care of both sexes, as they are not sufficiently far apart for such accommodation.

With the completion, however, of custodial Building K we believe that two hundred females can be provided for in that institution.

The number of inmates, however, that can be properly, conveniently and profitably housed in this institution, as we have above stated, depends upon the judgment of the superintendent and the Board of Trustees.

The buildings erected and in the course of erection constitute about one-half of the institution, as shown on the general plan submitted and approved by the State Board of Public Charities.

The Commission is informed that the sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars will be necessary to complete the institution, as shown on the plan above mentioned, and it is recommended to the Legislature that this sum, to wit: one million five hundred thousand dollars be appropriated to such persons or department of this Commonwealth as it may deem advisable for the purpose of completing this institution, which when finally completed will accommodate fifteen hundred inmates and will greatly relieve the congested condition of other such institutions.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

SCHEDULE NO. 2.

In reply to the third paragraph of your resolution, relative to the operation of sawmills by the Department of Forestry, the number of mills, names of those in charge, the cost of the work, and the price received for the product, beg leave to report as follows: In June, 1909, a sawmill, shingle mill, lath mill and an engine were purchased for use on the Mont Alto reserve. The primary reason for procuring this outfit, as in the other case we mention, is for the making of improvement cuttings in the State forest. The lands purchased for forest reserves are clothed with various kinds of timber. Some contain brush, others young growing stands, while still others contain some overmature and defective timber, which must be removed in order to make way for the growing of the valuable even-aged stand. The purpose of employing a saw mill in this work was that the removal of wood in the process of improvement cutting makes the woods better than when the State bought the land; and certain of the product may be worked up by a saw mill into merchantable stuff, which will sell in the market for a greater price than if cut into cord wood by hand and sold as cordwood.

Mr. Lewis E. Staley, a forester in the employ of the department, is in charge of the work of improvement cutting on the Mont Alto division of the South Mountain reserve, is a graduate of the State Forest Academy, a practical sawmill man as well as a forester, and has had charge of the operation of that mill.

A statement of the operation of the Mont Alto mill under Mr. Staley's charge is as follows:

Expense of operation	$2,117 45

RECEIPTS.

86,614	Bd. ft. lumber	$1,670 24
483	Posts	79 31
9	Telephone poles	11 25
476½	Cords wood	754 68
95,590	Shingles	430 64
47,608	Plastering lath	198 29
	Miscellaneous	35 66
		$3,180 07
	Net Profit	$1,062 62

It will be seen from the above that the operation of the mill at Mont Alto has produced a profit to the State of $1,062.62, and in addition has been the means of advancing improvement work much more rapidly and satisfactorily than could otherwise have been done; and as a result of this work the forest is now in the best condition for the rapid and successful production of first-class timber. The timber removed in the process of improvement cutting was such as no local lumberman would undertake to remove and manufacture; and the character of the work, because of the scattered nature of the trees and the area from over which they had to be gathered, made the cost of operation more expensive than any lumberman would agree to assume. However, under the operation of the State it has been conducted at a profit both from a money point of view and from the point of view of improvement to the woods.

Had the material comprehended in the above statement been cut by hand with the use of axe and saw and reduced to cordwood it would have produced approximately 735 cords at a cost of $928.75. At the price at which cord wood is sold in that part of the State, averaging $1.75 per cord in the woods, and depending upon the condition and species of the wood, it would have produced a gross return of $1,286.25. This would have shown a profit in operation of only $357.50. If the whole product could have been sold as cordwood and then compared with the return of operation of the sawmill, there is shown a loss to the State of $705.13: but a large part of such wood cut into cordwood is not salable in that region and would have remained on hand, gradually deteriorating, so that the loss to the State would have been even greater that the amount stated. The proceeds received from this operation have been paid into the State Treasury.

In December, 1910, this mill was moved to the Caledonia division of the South Mountain reserve, was set up on State land, and the operation of the mill began the latter part of January, 1911. This operation is in charge of Robert G. Conklin, a forester in the employ of the department and a graduate of the State Forest Academy. The operation here has not been continuous, having frequently been intermitted as occasion demanded.

Twenty years ago, when the stand of white pine and hemlock was cut off these lands by the then owner, there were left remaining upon the ground numerous trees of these species and a few others, standing in such localities that they could not be removed by the methods of lumbering in vogue at that time and at a profit. The trees were mature then and have been gradually declining ever since. Unless they are removed now and as much derived from them as can be made, the State will suffer the loss of these trees. They are scattered over a rather wide area in swampy and on rocky places, and their inaccessibility made profitable lumbering of these trees impossible when the general stand was cut twenty years ago, and of necessity makes their lumbering at this time higher in price than if they were situate under better conditions.

The purpose here is likewise to improve the character and condition of the woods. In so doing these old and declining trees must be removed and the young even aged stand encouraged to come on.

A statement of the expense incurred in this part of the operation to April 24, 1911, is as follows:

Cutting	$329 09
Hauling	592 95
Sawing Lumber	300 15
Sawing lath	137 50
General expenses (setting mills, covering, etc.)	182 98
Repairs and usable supplies	260 88
	$1,803 55

A statement of the product derived from this operation is as follows:

FINISHED PRODUCT.

Lath	55,000
Cull lumber	7,000	bd. ft.
White pine (in bds.)	20,631	bd. ft.
Hemlock (bill stuff)	53,790	bd. ft.

PRODUCT CUT, BUT NOT HAULED.

Lath (in bolts)	12,000
Lath (in logs)	45,000
White pine	42,659	bd. ft.
Hemlock	13,882	bd. ft.
Chestnut	1,350	bd. ft.
Pin oak	2,697	bd. ft.
Yellow pine	1,228	bd. ft.

At the very low price prevailing in that region for product of the above character, this material is worth at least $3,500.00, consideration being taken of the fact that additional expense must be incurred in hauling and sawing the unfinished product and in ascertaining the profit, this expense is not to be deducted therefrom, having been allowed for in the calculation. The above operation, therefore, to date shows an approximate profit in excess of $1,600.00, and in addition there is removed from the forest a growth which is deteriorating in quality, encumbering the ground and hindering the production of young even-aged stand. Many of the trees thus removed were dying, some were already dead and others would soon follow.

There still remains standing on the stump about 50,000 board-feet of overmature hemlock which should be cut to complete this operation and to improve the general condition of the woods where growing. Had the whole product been sold at a stumpage price, the best possible return which might have been derived for this material would have been $716.23, calculating the stumpage price at $5.00 per thousand, and in so doing taking into consideration the fact that the material is widely scattered and after cutting and manufacture there remains a haul of seven miles to the railroad. By selling at stumpage prices the State, therefore, would have incurred the additional loss of nearly $900.00 which it made and saved for itself by reason of the sawmill operation.

Of the above finished product at Caledonia all is on hand and ready for sale and delivery except one bill of 7,077 bd. ft. of hemlock, which has been sold, and for which the price paid and collected is $141,54.

The cost of the above milling outfit was as follows:

Engine	$765 00
Sawmill	295 00
Shingle mill	240 00
Lath mill	200 00
Belts and bolts	42 70
Saw, 56 in.	95 00
Freight	9 60
Sawdust elevator	30 00
Shafting	15 17
Emery wheel and boxing	13 51
Total cost of outfit	$1,601 38

Against the above investment there is shown profit as follows:

Mont Alto operation	$1,062 62
Caledonia operation to date	1,600 00
Total proceeds from operation of mill	$2,662 62
Cost of the mill	1,601 38
Net profit	$1,061 24

It will thus be seen that the State has gained the sum of $1,061.24 by reason of owning and operating one sawmill outfit, using material which is unsalable in the form of cordwood, besides improving the condition of the woods. In the short time in which the State has owned the outfit it has more than paid for itself and this by reason of casual operation only. Had the operation of the mill been continuous it is certain that a much larger profit would have resulted.

The above excellent showing, under the circumstances, is attributable to one fact—the combination of practical business principles in an unfavorable situation joined with the science of practical forestry as taught in the State Forest Academy at Mont Alto.

In a portion of the State forest in Clearfield county there are at least 325,000 feet of dead and dying hemlock and yellow pine, all of which is rapidly deteriorating and will soon become a total loss. To save some of this value to the State, the department has entered into a contract with Mr. Joseph Lerock to cut, skid, saw and deliver to Clearfield all of the material of this character found on the area mentioned. The delivery to Clearfield involves a haul of 8 miles. The contract provides that Mr. Lerock shall receive $11.00 per thousand feet, board measure, for hemlock, and $11.50 per thousand feet for yellow pine delivered at Clearfield, and that everything realized above this price in the sale of the finished product will be profit to the State. By reason of the price prevailing in that region for manufactured material of this character a substantial profit will be made without any outlay whatever for expense of operation. Mr. Lerock has just started work and no sales have yet been made.

Mr. William F. Dague, a forester in the employ of the department and a graduate of the State Forest Academy at Mont Alto, is in charge of the southern portion of the Clearfield county reserve and of this work.
